FRANCE'S GOOD OFFICES TENDERED UNITED STATES

Willing to Assist in Reaching Good Understanding With Japan

MEDIATION IS NOT NECESSARY

Papan Will Endeavor to Have Modifications Made in Treaty When it is Reserved

Paris, June 7.—One of the immediate results of the Franco-Japan entente, which is on the point of being signed, has been the tender by France of her good offices to the United States in case she can be of service in promoting a complete understanding between the United States and Japan covering their respective interests in the far east.

France believes that the United States should become a party to the series of ententes recently arrived at between the powers, guaranteeing the status quo in the east, and the best means of avoiding future complications and misunderstandings, and has formally communicated to the United States government her readiness, now or in the future, to further negotiations in that direction. The Washington government, while not availing itself of France's services, expressed in its reply its deep sensibility and appreciation of her friendly offer.

"Thank You"

Washington, June 7.—While the American government admits receiving the French tender of good offices to promote a stable understanding between the United States and Japan, the practical use to which such a tender can be put is not regarded as apparent at the present time. The only negotiation between the United States and Japan which can be said to be pending or likely to be subject of intercourse in the near future, relate to the terms of a possible immigration treaty. Nothing whatever has arisen between the two nations to preclude the most straightforward dealing on this question, and consequently the point at which the offer of France could be availed of in this connection is not apparent. From a diplomatic view point the San Francisco incident is closed. The way has been pointed out whereby those Japanese who were injured as the result of a mob attack can recover damages from San Francisco. It is pointed out that the one regrettable reminder of this incident is the use which a portion of the press in both countries is making of it to create hostile sentiment. With diplomatic relations between the United States and Japan not only uninterrupted, but with nothing on the horizon which leads to apprehension, the French offer is accepted as it was extended, as making the most happy addition to the cordiality between the two nations.

Japan's Position.

Tokio, June 7.—A representative of Japanese residents in America arrived here recently and called upon the government. The latter assured him that the proposal made by the American government to enter into a mutual agreement for the restriction of labor emigration would be rejected by Japan and that every effort would be made to expunge the last clause of article 2 of the present treaty when it comes up for revision in 1909, but that it was not expected that America would yield easily on this point. A special commissioner probably will be dispatched to America to investigate the actual conditions prevailing there.

A Comparison

Tokio, June 7.—The Hochi, which is supporting Count Okuma in his position on the American question, this morning says: "The San Francisco missionaries in China, which resulted in the occupation of Khabarovsk, who would blame an appeal to the last measure if an impendency to protect treaty rights is proved? We hope, however, that Ambassador Aoki will be real enough to make the Washington government quickly take measures to mete out justice to the Japanese."

Adjudged Insane

Lebanon, June 7.—Judge Artman today declared George Rhodius, of Indianapolis, to be insane, and appointed James M. Berry Hill, of that city, as his guardian. Rhodius owns real estate in Indianapolis worth $80,000. On January 21 Rhodius was married at Louisville, in the office of a justice of the peace, to Elma Dare, keeper of an Indianapolis resort. It was charged that the Dare woman kidnapped Rhodius. Judge Artman says he considers that Rhodius never married Elma Dare at all.

CATHOLIC DIGNITARIES

Party from Manitoba Makes Tour of the West

Moose Jaw, Sask., June 7.—A party of distinguished Catholic church dignitaries who visited the city yesterday, included Archbishop Langevin, Father Richoux, of St. Marlowe college, France, Father Bellavance, the archbishop's secretary, and several other priests from Manitoba. They had made a trip to Willow Beach and the new Catholic settlement of Cravelburg, where they dedicated a new church, traveled two hundred and twenty miles through a fine wheat and mixed farming country, "the greatest land under the sun," said his grace. Continuing he said: "It is three years since I visited Moose Jaw. You are developing very rapidly; you will have a population of 50,000 in a few years, and be a grand city."

Father Royer, of Willow, is in the General hospital suffering from a rifle shot accidentally discharged.

IN JASPER PASS

District Around Rocky Mountain House Is Good

Edmonton, June 7.—W. G. Hunter, a big rancher from Rocky Mountain House, in Jasper Pass, is spending a few days in the city. He came down by trail to Lacombe and thence to Edmonton. He came up from Montana three years ago, and settled in the Pass. He says there is not a better place for ranching than around Rocky Mountain House. Several families have settled there and are still doing well. He would not recommend it for grain raising as compared with the Edmonton district, but vegetables and all kinds of garden produce do exceedingly well, and there is no danger of frost. Horses and cattle all wintered out, and although last winter was colder than usual they were without stabling or hay, and came out in the spring looking fat and sleek.

Cotton Futures Rise.

New Orleans, June 7.—For the first time in nearly four years, cotton futures reached 12 cents per pound on the New Orleans Cotton Exchange today. The July option touched the figure mainly on a report that an English syndicate plans to buy 1,000,000 bales of July.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY IN REGULAR SESSION

Reports of Augmentation Committees—Effort to Further Women's Work

Montreal, June 7.—In the afternoon augmentation was the first subject considered by the Presbyterian Assembly. Rev. Dr. Smith, of Musquodoboit, reported for the eastern part of the work. He had a cheering tale to tell. The fund has been supported by the people so well that there is now a surplus of $8,350. Large sums were paid in grants to congregations. Dr. Smith, who has been layman of the fund for seventeen years, resigned his office much to the regret of the members.

Rev. Dr. Lyle, in speaking for the west, had a different tale to tell. There has been a shortage in the amount asked from congregations. Twenty-seven churches that were receding aid became self-sustaining, thirty-nine were added to the augmentation list. The speaker expressed the hope that soon the minimum stipend would be $1,000. $42,298 were contributed for this work during the year.

At this point the moderator introduced Judge Harland, an eminent member of the Presbyterian church of the United States, who addressed the meeting, emphasizing the Presbyterian form of government and doctrine. Liberty regulated by law is its motto, and hence the character it has produced in the years that are gone.

Principal Patrick resumed the consideration of the augmentation committee report.

Through it the number of congregations in Winnipeg increased from five to fifteen in a few years, and this summer two more are to be called into existence. Principal Patrick regarded it as the great method of the church to extend its influence and help the cause it stands for.

Rev. A. J. MacGillivray, of Vancouver, followed and dealt with the comparative beggarly living that the average minister received in the poorer congregations of the Presbyterian church. Had carriers got more than men who have given themselves to church work. Mr. MacGillivray spoke together for the west. He said that in the far west there was an increase of 30 per cent. over the previous year.

Jupiter Pluvius reigned last evening. Montreal was in the usual assembly fashion. Heaven weeps with joy when so many preacher soldiers get together of its scope and of its support, and to approve at the same time of some method by which graduates may be specially designated by the church when entering on their work.

On the heels of this, Winnipeg presbytery overtures the Central assembly to take steps to set apart an order of women who shall serve the church as nurses, parish visitors, dispensers of charity and many other ways that may prove to be desirable.

ALEXANDER HENDERSON GETS THE YUKON PLUM

Appointed Commissioner of the Territory by the Ottawa Government

POLITICAL AND JUDICIAL CAREER

R. G. MacPherson Said to be Slated as Successor to Postmaster Miller at Vancouver

Vancouver, June 7.—It is announced that ex-Judge Henderson has been appointed commissioner of the Yukon territory and R. G. MacPherson, M. P., will succeed Jonathan Miller as postmaster here on his retirement, which is shortly to take place.

Alexander Henderson, defeated candidate in the Liberal interest for Vancouver at the last local elections, has been appointed commissioner of the Yukon to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of W. W. B. McInnes, who resigned to contest one of the seats for the same city in the interests of the same party. The news was received last evening and as a result the telegraph wires were kept alive with congratulatory telegrams from Mr. Henderson's friends and associates at the bar in this city. Up to the time of his resignation, Mr. Henderson was judge of the county court for the district of Vancouver.

Mr. Henderson was born at Oshawa, Ont., March 13, 1859, the son of Alex. Henderson, a native of Calhoun, Scotland, and Grace Kilpatrick, of Paisley. He was educated at Oshawa High school and later graduated from Toronto university with the degree of B. A. in 1881.

Coming to British Columbia in 1891, he entered upon the practice of law at New Westminster and soon began to display an active interest in politics. In 1898 he was elected member of the provincial legislature to represent New Westminster, and upon the resignation of Joseph Martin in August, 1899, he entered the Senate-Cabinet as attorney-general, retaining that position until the dismissal of the ministry in February, 1900. In June, 1901, he was made a judge of the county court, only resigning in January of the present year. He has since practiced his profession in the Terminal City, having formed a partnership with D. G. Macdonald in the same month.

Mr. Henderson in 1895 married Susan Crawford, daughter of William McCraney, ex-M. P. for Halton, Ont.

Rush for Homesteads

Yorkton, June 7.—The rush for homesteads in the Doukhobor reserves continues unabated, although it is attended with none of the roughness which characterized the first few days.

Lamented by Turfmen

Hamilton, Ont., June 7.—Universal regret was expressed among horsemen racing here at the death of A. W. Mackenzie, Trainer Eddie White, of the Kirkfield stable, did not hear the news of his employer's death until this morning. Alex. Mackenzie was very popular on the Canadian turf, and his death was deplored by everybody.

Dipping Cattle

Lethbridge, June 7.—Dr. Howe, Colo., a dipping expert has arrived at Lethbridge and is making preparations to handle all the cattle in this country, while the great southern Alberta round up, which comes to a head here, proceeds. A cement tank is being erected at the stockyards, and the first car of oil has arrived. One spraying machine will be used at first, accounting for 2,000 or 3,000 head a day. Mr. Howe is going at once to Calgary in connection with a contract to dip 20,000 head of cattle for the Circle people.

FRANCE'S ATTITUDE.

Foreign Minister Says it is One of Moderation.

Paris, June 7.—In the Chamber of Deputies today M. DePresence, socialist, interpolated the government relative to the attitude of France at The Hague peace conference. He referred to Great Britain as a "precious instrument of peace for the whole world," and declared that immense armaments meant bankruptcy for the countries adopting such a policy.

Foreign Minister Pichon, in reply, remarked that the coming conference was a veritable international parliament. France would remain true to herself by playing an unrestricted role of moderation and conciliation, similar to that adopted by M. Bourgeois, the head of the French delegation to the peace conference of 1899. The many and good reputations of the French delegates, he added, guaranteed the useful fulfillment of their mission. The chamber unanimously approved the minister's declaration.

CASTRO'S MESSAGE.

Speaks to Congress on Subject of Foreign Relations.

Caracas, June 1, via Curacao, June 7.—President Castro, whose strength is returning gradually, attended congress today and read his message to that body.

Referring to the foreign relations of the republic of Venezuela, the president said: "I am well pleased to inform you that your political relations with friendly countries are increasingly cordial. The labors of this government are pervaded by a spirit of harmony and courtesy. This government's intercourse with diplomatic representatives here is therefore perfectly cordial. Within a short period, the claims of Great Britain, Germany and Italy, which were given preference at The Hague, will be fully paid. As soon as these are settled, the appropriation used to meet them will be employed to pay the remaining claims against Venezuela."

"I regret to inform you that diplomatic relations with Colombia have not yet been renewed. Correspondence on this subject proves that the failure of the steps towards renewal are not attributable to Venezuela. We are still endeavoring to realize our conciliatory and fraternal purposes, and this in spite of various incursions proceeding from Colombian territory."

"The year book sets forth the causes of the continuance of interruption of diplomatic relations with France. This does not imply that Venezuela ceased her efforts tending to the renewal of these relations. It is not and never was the fault of Venezuela that relations with France were not maintained upon a proper footing. Our relations with Great Britain, Germany and Italy continue upon the same harmonious basis as since their renewal, and diplomatic representatives of these countries in Caracas contribute effectively to harmony. Our intercourse with the United States is entirely cordial."

Lost Men Turn Up

Edmonton, June 7.—Three men of Capt. Saunders' survey party, who left Rocky Mountain House to come down to Saskatoon in a boat, while the remainder came in by horse, have reached the city safely, much to the relief of Capt. Saunders, who was anxiously looking for them. Frank Smith says that the 200 mile trip from Rocky Mountain House to Edmonton is an ideal canoe trip, and can be easily made in three days.

Winter wheat Lethbridge to Cardston, Alberta, and from MacLeod to Calgary, in very good condition. Grain in many fields fully one foot high. Spring grain over most of this area about six inches high, all growing very rapidly. Weather favorable, outlook promising. (signed) Mm. Saunders."

Stoughton, Sask., June 7.—J. H. Haslam arrived here this morning after a drive of one hundred and fifty miles from the main line at Belle plaine to Halibut, on the Soo line, and across country to this point. He reports after a careful investigation that there is a larger acreage in wheat than last year, and that the grain is progressing very favorably. Oats and flax are still being sown. The conditions on the continent. The weather conditions could not be better, and with warm weather and an occasional shower, the June conditions will be as good as any for the last five years. The farmers are in good spirits and expect a bumper crop. Farmers who are done seeding are busy breaking and the high price of wheat is stimulating every one to their best efforts. The next few days will see the wheat well covering the ground. Mr. Haslam expects a large number of American land seekers and settlers this season.

Against Standard Oil.

DETERMINED ASSAULTS ON ORCHARD'S TESTIMONY

Counsel for Defence Seek to Discredit Story at Many Points

HE CONFESSES TO MORE CRIMES

Committed Bigamy at Cripple Creek—Stole Much High Grade Ore and Powder From Mines

Boise, June 7.—Counsel for William D. Haywood continued their attack on the testimony of Harry Orchard at both sessions of the trial today. They made their strongest assault on the witness in connection with events beginning with the explosion in the Victor mine and ended with the earlier meetings between him and the leaders of the Western Federation of Miners in Denver. To the extent that traffic with the "other side" in the war between labor and capital in Colorado was established they succeeded in discrediting his evidence.

Taking up the assertion that Orchard made in his direct examination that he was treacherous to his comrades in Cripple Creek, by disclosing a train wrecking plot, they developed the fact that Orchard entered the employ of D. C. Scott, who had charge of the railway detectives in the play of the Mine Owners' Association and that Scott paid his expenses and accompanied him to Denver on the trip when he first met Moyer and Haywood. He said that he had agreed to report to Scott, but that he lied to him and never intended to report to him and never did report.

The defense also tried to show that because he stood well with the mine owners Orchard was never molested by the militia in Cripple Creek during the strike. Orchard admitted that Scott had told him that if the militia interfered with him he was to send for him, and that the militia did not interfere with him or search his house. Orchard said he was not paid for his work at the Victor mine, and he was jealous because he was given hard work like the Victor mine job, whereas other men were assigned the simple job of train wrecking by displacing rails.

Crimes great and small were added to Orchard's record today. The Cripple Creek woman with whom he had committed bigamy had three sons. Orchard stole his grade ore from a messmate; he stole two cases of powder from the Victor mine; he stole powder to make one of the bombs thrown into the Victor coal pipe, and he lied.

The defense endeavored in various ways to throw doubt and improbabilities around Orchard's whole Victor mine story and the alleged connection of W. F. Davis and Wm. Easterly with the affair, and the circumstances under which Orchard testified that he met Moyer and Haywood and was paid for the commission of the crime. It also tried to discredit Orchard's story that he was sent back to Cripple Creek with unlimited credit and orders to commit any act of violence that he cared to. They confronted Orchard with Easterly and Owsen Barnes, and paved the way for the contradiction of the story by Orchard. Several times during the day they paved the way for controversy of the testimony on material points. Orchard stood the test and strain very well, and held to the story he related yesterday. He was not shaken. Suddenly towards the close of the day the defense took up the trip Orchard made to Southern Colorado with Moyer in the early part of 1904, and showed that Moyer feared to go south unguarded because "mine owners' official thugs had beaten innocent men, and that he sent over to Orchard to aid in protecting him. It was agreed that they should carry shotguns and put them in the centre of the car so that if they were attacked they could defend themselves. Attorney Richardson in questioning the witness made every clear that this was an entirely straightforward arrangement, "free from any fake."

Counsel flared up several times during the day, and in the last passage at arms Mr. Hawley said that Mr. Richardson told a falsehood when he intimated that Orchard was a fixed witness.

The trial will go on tomorrow and the cross-examination of Orchard, who has been on the stand three days, will be concluded.

The Day's Evidence

Boise, Idaho, June 7.—The trial of Wm. D. Haywood for the murder of Frank Steenbergen was resumed at 9 a.m. today. When Orchard again took the stand today, he said he had neglected yesterday to give the name of his sixth sister, The Minnie Horsely, who married a man named Rogers, and who lived in New York State. Orchard also said that he stated yesterday he had no partners in the wood business in Burke, Idaho. He remembered the miners who were two men whom he owed money and to whom he had promised an interest in the business. Orchard admitted that while he was in Idaho he became quite a gambler, playing poker most of the time. He was asked how he voted the day the unions decided to go down to Wardner and blow up the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mines, and said he did not remember.

E. F. Richardson for the defence took the witness through a description of the make-up of the train, which took the riding miners to Victor. Orchard said it was composed of 13 cars, some being freight and other passenger coaches.

"Are you sure," finally asked Mr. Richardson, "that you were not at Burke or Mullen playing poker when

WILL EXPLORE ALBERNI DISTRICT

Herbert Carmichael, Provincial Assayer, Sent by the Government

WILL LOOK INTO POSSIBILITIES

Resources in Minerals and Timber to be Investigated and Topographical Map to be Prepared

Among the passengers of the steamer "Fees" for the west coast last night was Herbert Carmichael, provincial assayer, and Mrs. Carmichael, bound to Alberni. Mr. Carmichael goes to Alberni to make a reconnaissance of the whole country tributary to Alberni for the provincial government, and will spend several months exploring and surveying parts of the country as yet practically unknown. Assisting him in this work are two third year McGill men, Messrs. Carruthers and Meyerstein, who will assist with the survey and topographical work.

On the next morning for the west coast Mr. Carmichael's launch will be taken to Alberni and transported by the wagon road for twelve miles to Great Central lake, for use there. Mr. Carmichael will make Alberni his headquarters. Great Central lake will be surveyed and the different valleys and streams will be explored. The reconnaissance will not be confined to mining, but will be carried on with a view to ascertaining the resources and general possibilities of the big district. It is generally considered that the Alberni district is one of considerable development and the provincial government wishes to be cognizant of the resources and ready for the opening of the country.

Mr. Carmichael is taking a number of the instrument with him and proposes to do considerable topographical work. Great Central lake and vicinity has as yet not been mapped, and it is expected that much information will be secured as a result of the work now being undertaken. It is proposed to establish a series of stations from which triangulations will be made and considerable planes of table work will be done. The work is expected to have a geographical value, as well as unveiling the resources of the district. Mr. Carmichael will, of course, look specially into the mining possibilities of the country which has already, despite its difficulty of access, one or two good mines and many prospects have been located which the holders hope will turn into valuable properties when the country is opened up. The Alberni interior is being developed by Messrs. C. J. V. Spratt and L. Engvik, of Victoria, and has some high grade ore, and the W. W. mine on Alberni Sound is shipping high grade ore. Other mines in this district are also showing much promise.

Mr. Carmichael proposes to look into the timber resources and it is expected his journey will be fruitful of many discoveries along different lines. Great Central lake is a body of water 25 miles long. There are a number of streams with considerable water power, the possibilities of which will be looked into. One of the waterfalls of the district ranks among the highest in British Columbia.

The information derived by Mr. Carmichael in his explorations will be published in bulletins to be issued at different times by the provincial government.

Motor Club Meeting.

A meeting of the Victoria Motor Club will be held at 8:30 p. m. next Friday at A. E. Todd's residence, "The Leasowes," St. Charles street, for the transaction of ordinary business and for the purpose of considering: A club run and luncheon on Sunday, June 23; erecting "Go Slow" notices on Goldstream and other roads; selecting assistant secretary, and deciding remuneration; further discussion of proposed West Saanich inlet road; mailing and distributing "Rules of the Road." The presence of lady members is particularly requested.

PEDLAR PALMER TO HANG.

Former English Featherweight Champion Is Sentenced to Death.

Pedlar Palmer, the former English featherweight champion, has been sentenced to be hanged for the murder of an old man whom he struck on an English railway train. Last week Palmer was given a hearing and was given the death sentence. His wife is heartbroken and Palmer himself is almost insane from the shock.

Palmer was one of England's foremost boxers for the past ten years, and in the years 1896-'97-'98 he was invincible in his class.

He held the bantamweight championship of the world for several years and met his first defeat after reaching the highest rung of pugilistic fame at the hands of Terry McGovern at Tuckahoe, U. S. A., on September 2, 1894. During his association with the ring, Palmer's earnings are said to have totalled considerably more than $250,000.

Like many other boxers of fame Palmer got through his money very quickly, and it is only a few years back since he drove about in a tandem. Palmer was in London in a tandem turnout, on November 19, 1876, and although now in the featherweight class, he won all his great battles when in the bantamweight division. Palmer, after beating all the best men in England, journeyed to the States in 1894, and fought a draw with George Dixon, the black demon. Subsequently he defeated Johnny Murphy, of Boston, Dave Sullivan and Billy Rochfort who all voyaged specially from the States to London to fight for the world's championship. But Palmer beat them all in turn and for three years he was the undisputed champion. Terry McGovern, however, gave Pedlar his Waterloo at Tuckahoe and since then Pedlar has lost more fight than he has won.

Motorist Acquitted

Royston, Eng., June 7.—The case of Miss Elsie Fox, an American charged with manslaughter, was heard at the petty sessions yesterday. On May 1st, Miss Fox was motoring down to Newmarket races and her car struck and killed a man. The magistrate decided that there was sufficient evidence to send the case to trial. Miss Fox was defended by Lord Robert Cecil.

DETERMINED ASSAULT ON ORCHARD'S TESTIMONY

this explosion occurred?" "I am not sure," came the reply. "I lit one of the fuses which fired the powder under the mill."

"Did you know Haywood, Moyer, or Pettibone at this time?"

"No sir."

"They were not with you at Wardner when the mill was blown up?"

"No sir, not that I know of."

Orchard said he left Idaho after the blowing up of the Bunker Hill mill and was taken over the years from 1897 to 1902 in detail, explaining where he worked, where he got his money, and where he went from time to time. Orchard said he worked an average of 10 to 11 months a year in the mines of Utah, Nevada and Arizona. He gambled part of the time.

"Did you lose when you first began to play?"

"Not always."

"But you finally got so the other fellows always lost did you not?"

"I nearly always lost."

Orchard traced his journey from place to place. He admitted that a large percentage of his wages went over the gambling tables. He seldom remained more than from two to three months in any mining camp. Up to the time he went to Colorado in 1902, Orchard said he had never heard of Haywood, Pettibone, Moyer or Simpson.

Orchard said he did not hear of Governor Steunenberg's action in suppressing the Coeur d'Alene troubles until some time after he left Idaho.

The witness said it was own initiative which took him to Colorado. At that time, July or August of 1902, there was no trouble in Granite Creek. Arriving in Colorado he went to work for the "Fletcher" mine, and renewed his membership in the federation, joining a local headed by W. P. Davis, who had been in charge of the party which blew up the Bunker Hill and Sullivan.

Orchard said that "Bill" Easterly, among others, had discussed with him the method of blowing up the Vindicator mine.

Mr. Richardson called Easterly from the audience. He was identified by Orchard.

Orchard said he joined in the Cripple Creek strike of August 1902.

Richardson asked him if by "high grading" ore in the Vindicator mine Orchard did not mean he was merely an ore thief. "I don't know how you call it," replied Orchard. "We took the high class ore out secretly and sold it."

"You often made as high as $25 or $30 a day didn't you, from high grading?"

In his direct testimony Orchard said he had reported to Davis the finding of a carload of powder in the Vindicator mine.

"Up to the time you told this to Davis, had there been any talk to you of proposed violence in the mine?"

"No sir."

"You broached the subject?"

"Yes, I had heard that the leaders of the federation had blown up mines before," the witness believed Arthur Doolin had told him of this.

"Your object was to suggest to Davis the firing of this powder?"

"I felt some enmity to the mine owners and had thought of it. The soldiers had been brought in there and were running us around."

Asked how he came to know there was powder in the mine, Orchard said he had stolen some and sold it.

"Was there anything in your experience at Wardner, Idaho, which also suggested the touching off of this powder to you?"

"It may have."

"Did the suggestion that the powder in the mine he touched off come from you or from Davis?"

"From Davis. He said he would give me $200 to touch it off."

Orchard said he had communicated his "thoughts" about blowing up the mine to Davis.

There were fifty non-unionists in the mine. Orchard said Moyer in an address at Cripple Creek advised against overt acts of violence, which he said would be charged to the federation. Haywood spoke to the same effect, he cautioned the strikers against drinking and gambling.

"Didn't Haywood say that the mine owners would like violence, for they could then bring in troops and break up the union?" asked Richardson.

"I don't remember that."

"I don't say that any violence would react on the union and was not to be contemplated?"

"I believe he did."

Court took recess at 11:20 till 1:20 p. m. with Orchard still on the stand.

With a man named Scholls, Orchard said he went into the Vindicator mine to fire the powder. A "cager" discovered them and they abandoned. Two months later the mine was blown up by Sherman, Parker and Davis.

Orchard said the plan was to attach a pistol to a life bar at the seventh level. The car would lift this bar, discharge the pistol into the box of giant caps and fire the powder. Orchard said Will Easterly helped him conduct experiments along this line.

Easterly was present and was identified by Orchard. Orchard said Easterly refused to participate in the explosion, as he was an officer of the union. Orchard said he was promised $500 for this attempt.

Supt. McCormick and Mel Beck were killed a week later by a bomb which Ackerman helped Orchard to place.

In June 1902, Orchard said he married Mrs. Ida Toney, a widow with three children. Orchard was promised money by Davis and Parker, the day after the bomb exploded. Orchard admitted that he had felt "sore" because he had been refused money for his first attempt.

Asked why he informed the Florence and Cripple Creek Railroad company of the miners' alleged plot to wreck the train, Orchard said he was perhaps a little jealous because he had not been employed.

Orchard, after admitting during the cross examination in the afternoon that he went to Denver in the pay of the railroad detectives, stated that he ceased to report to the detectives and took up the work of the Western Federation of Miners, who paid him all he needed. On leaving Denver Haywood told him, he said, to go back to Cripple Creek and "kill some of them soldiers."

The defence by questions admitted that Moyer and Orchard traveled together from Denver to Ouray in 1904, heavily armed. Richardson intimated that the reason for arming was that Moyer was carrying messages for union men, and feared attacks from "official thugs." The court adjourned at 3:30 p. m.

Denver Interviews

Denver, June 7.—Following the testimony of Harry Orchard in the Haywood trial, interviews here with several persons referred to are printed today. Supreme Justice Gabbert, who Orchard says was the intended victim of the bomb, says that Orchard's testimony was in line with incidents connected with the killing of Wally. Mrs. Jas. Peabody, wife of the former governor, recalls distinctly the night when two men followed her carriage. Jacob Wolf, though whom Orchard vehemently denied the truth of the story, Alax Malich says Orchard told him he would kill Governor Steunenberg because the latter prevented him from becoming a millionaire. Orchard reasoned according to Malich that Steunenberg's request for troops during the Coeur d'Alene strike compelled him to leave the district and dispose of his interest in the Hercules mine. The purchasers subsequently became millionaires.

ROOSTER'S CROWING IS SUBJECT OF LAW SUIT

Owner of Bird is Fined For Maintaining Public
Nuisance

A white rooster with a high soprano voice, and a mindfull of mischief was the cause of a dispute in the police court yesterday morning. The disputants were Belmont Graham, 46 North Chatham street and W. A. Jones, next door neighbor, and owner of the bird.

On Wednesday of last week Mr. Jones appeared before Magistrate Hall and in answer to a charge that his rooster was a nuisance to the Graham family, inasmuch as it disturbed the peace and quiet in the night time, pleaded guilty. He paid the costs of the court and promised that the Grahams would no longer be annoyed by the crowing of that particular member of his hen coop.

But the noise which generally commenced at midnight and lasted till after daylight continued for five days more when Mr. Graham again lost his patience, and laid a second charge against Mr. Jones. When this charge was read to him yesterday morning Mr. Jones said he was not guilty, and witnesses were called for the purpose of proving that he was.

Mr. Graham testified that his bedroom window was just 58 feet from Mr. Jones' hen house, and that after midnight he could not sleep because of the crowing of the rooster. He had seen a white rooster crowing in the daytime, and knew from the similarity of sound that it was the same bird that made all the noise in the night time.

Mrs. Graham corroborated her husband's evidence, and when subjected to cross-examination went even further and abused the offending rooster till he did not seem to be entitled to any other consideration than the chopping block. He was a silly old thing, she said. He was young, his crow was nothing but a regular screech, and she would know his voice among a dozen. There was another rooster in the neighborhood, but it was older than the white one belonging to Mr. Jones, and had a low bass voice, a sort of musical tone. Mrs. Graham was sure that she made no mistake about which rooster it was that kept her awake at night. Different roosters had different styles of crowing, and she knew nearly all of them. Being asked by the counsel for the defence for a few imitations of the crows of different breeds of roosters she refused on the ground that she had no practical knowledge. There were no roosters among the many she had known as bad as the one she complained of. It was not only a natural nuisance, but she also suspected it of mischievousness. It would not start its noise till she went to sleep. When she was awake it would stop, and remain silent till it thought she was in dreamland again. Then its shrill voice would be heard once more.

Mr. Jones took the stand in defence of his white rooster. He had admitted that he had previously been charged with a nuisance to the Graham family, but he did not like to question the veracity of a neighbor. Since that time he had not heard any noise from his hen coop that would keep him awake. He had heard a dozen roosters crowing in the neighborhood and did not believe his was any worse than any of the others. In order to avoid trouble, he had sent his rooster to Esquimalt where his son would take charge of it in future. Under cross-examination he admitted that he had been keeping chickens for twenty years, that he had become accustomed to their noises, and might not be as easily disturbed as his neighbors.

Magistrate Hall said that the evidence of Mrs. Graham was conclusive proof that the white rooster was the cause of the disturbance, and that the disturbance was sufficient to constitute a nuisance. He fined Mr. Jones $4.50.

New York Thieves

New York, June 7.—An investigation which will follow the arrest today of August Dohn and Phil French, former confidential employees of the furniture houses of S. Bauman & Co., is expected to reveal thefts to the aggregate of more than $35,000. They previously had been discharged by their employers. Dohn, who is married, tried to kill himself when he was arrested. He was held $500 bail. Miss French is at police headquarters.

Discussing the proposed discontinuance the Seattle Post-Intelligencer says: "The notices are issued by all civilized governments and keep the skippers informed of the changes that occur in foreign waters as well as those on the American coast. The stoppage of these notices would be a serious injury to every sea captain, work a serious injury to the merchant and the state that the matter would be taken up with Washington by the various branches of the Masters' and Pilots' Association if the threatened suspension of the publications goes into effect."

BRONCHO RIDING FOR THE PROVINCIAL FAIR

Arrangements Are Now Made For Contest Satisfactory To All Concerned

At a special meeting of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, the cowboy rough riding competition which has been announced as a feature of the programme for the provincial exhibition under the auspices of the Victoria Agricultural Society, was considered. Some of the members were inclined to believe the proposed rough riding was to be a broncho busting performance, but J. E. Smart, manager of the fair, enlightened them in this connection. It was shown that the proposed competition was to be purely an exhibition of skill for the championship of British Columbia, won in 1906 by John Richter of Keremeos, B. C., and no killing of any kind would be tolerated. The society, after debating the matter for some time and perusing the rules and regulations of the competition, decided to approve of the holding of the competition and the agricultural association will be so notified.

The first prize for the competition will consist of a championship belt, diploma and $100. The second prize will be $50. Special prizes of $75 and $25 will be given to the bronchos showing the best bucking exhibition. The conditions of the competition are as follows:

1. The competition shall be for the grand championship belt, to be won three times, not necessarily in succession, before becoming the permanent property of the winner; but the belt shall remain in the possession of the winner until again contested for at a meeting of this association.

2. Suitable bonds will be required for the safe return of the belt when again contested for.

3. The name of the winner shall be engraved on the belt together with the place and date of competition.

4. A diploma shall be given to each and every winner of the championship belt, setting forth the name of the winner and the time and place of competition. This diploma shall be the private property of the winner to whom it is awarded.

5. The holder of the championship belt must, upon 60 days' notice, be prepared to defend his title at the time and place so designated, or forfeit all claims upon the belt and championship.

6. The first money prize shall always accompany the belt in award.

7. All challenges for the belt must proceed through the board of directors of the British Columbia Agricultural Association.

8. Free transportation will be given to all horses taking part in the contest from Kamloops or Seattle and return.

9. In cases of owners desiring to dispose of any of their animals at Victoria, they may do so providing the board of directors are satisfied from the report of the judges that such animal has put up a creditable exhibition. If the judges are not satisfied with the exhibition put up by such animals as are offered for sale, the owner will be required to pay freight on him from original shipping point to Victoria in case of sale.

10. A car will start from Kamloops in the charge of a competent man about one month before the exhibition, due notice of which will be given. Make your entries early and reserve space in this car for your horses. Horses kept in Victoria free of charge during the exhibition.

11. The competition shall commence on Tuesday, September 24th, 1907, and shall be continued until completion on each succeeding afternoon of the exhibition, if necessary.

12. One half fare passenger excursion rates will be in effect from Calgary and all points west.

Entrance to the competition shall be free.

This competition is not necessarily confined to cowboys, but entries will be received from anyone desiring to compete.

The rules governing the competition are as follows:

1. Entries for the competition shall close September 15th, 1907.

2. Each contestant shall appear in full cowboy costume, including chaps and sombrero.

3. Any contestant may be debarred from the competition for any unbecoming conduct or neglect to obey the instructions of the judges.

4. Each rider will be compelled to furnish all the equipment he uses while riding in the contest.

5. A rider will be considered on his horse when he has one foot in the stirrup, and as soon as the other foot leaves the ground to mount. A man who is testing his horse's mettle by placing his weight on the stirrup and lifting the other foot from the ground without any attempt to get into the saddle, will not be considered as having attempted to mount. The judges shall decide what is an "attempt to mount." If a horse falls at any time with a rider on him and the rider is thrown by the falling, it shall be understood that this shall in no way count against the rider.

6. Each rider will be allowed a helper to assist him in saddling his horse, if he so desires.

7. If a rider is thrown from a horse that is allotted to him he may be debarred from participating further in the contest at the discretion of the judges.

8. No rider will be allowed to use any contrivance to assist him in riding, such as buck-strap, hobble-stirrup or check of any kind that will keep a horse's head up or any contrivance that will in any way keep a horse from bucking.

9. A rider's rig shall only consist of open bridle, harness, reins, saddle and blanket quilt, or any part thereof.

10. Any rider who shall attempt to subdue his horses by unnecessary means shall be at once debarred from the competition.

The rules governing the horses are:

1. The committee reserves the right to remove any horse from the arena at any time.

2. The committee reserves the right to substitute any horse that it may select for one that is removed from the arena.

It is left optional with the committee how all horses shall be saddled and blanketed and by whom this shall be done.

4. In the opening rounds of the competition, contestants will be allowed to ride the horse provided by them, after that the judges may order the changing of horses or riders or the selection of horses by lot or otherwise as they may see fit.

5. All riders will ride the horses thus selected so that the judges may choose the best riders and the worst bucking horse.

From the riding of these men, and the bucking of their horses the judges shall determine: First, the rider entitled to the championship belt; secondly, the rider entitled to second prize, and the horses entitled to the special prizes, and the judges shall so name the winners.

6. The judges shall at all times have the right and privilege to require a rider to be furnished with, and to ride a new horse whenever it shall be insisted upon by the judges, on account of any doubt as to horsemanship or ability on the part of the rider.

This may also be a "ride to a finish" until the judges shall be satisfied. Entrance free.

STOMACH TROUBLES OF LONG STANDING

Were Cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills When Doctors' Treatment Failed

Doctors failed to cure Mr. De Courcy because they were satisfied to treat the stomach instead of getting at the cause of trouble in the liver and bowels.

The most complicated and deep-seated digestive troubles yield to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, because of their direct and combined action on the liver, kidneys and bowels. We are continually receiving such letters as the following one in regard to the failure of mere stomach treatment:

Mr. Patrick De Courcy, Midgell, lot 40, P. E. I., writes: "For some time I had stomach trouble, and was scarcely able to do anything at all. I was treated by doctors, but they did not seem to do me any good. A friend advised me to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and I did so to very great advantage, for my old trouble has disappeared, and though past middle age, I feel young and hearty again. I have great confidence in Dr. Chase's medicine." Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 33 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmundson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

VANCOUVER JAPS AT OUTS

As Result of Friction Favor the Recall of Consul Morikawa

Vancouver, June 6.—There is a hurricane in a coffee urn among the local Japanese over the reception to be tendered to Prince Pushimi by his countrymen here, which may develop into international proportions, and lead to repudiation of allegiance to the Japanese representative of the Mikado's empire here. It all grows out of the refusal of Consul Morikawa to recognize the cosmopolitan element in the Japanese population, and a committee of the latter has given a full statement of the trouble and an explanation of the cause which impels them to take independent steps to tender a monster reception to the visiting Prince.

During the last ten days of May a large class of Japanese citizens appointed a representative committee to appoint a number of their fellows who should name a large reception committee. The men empowered to do this were Messrs. C. Uchida, S. Tamura, G. Higo, K. Yoshitomi, and Rev. G. Kaburagi.

A public meeting was held at the Japanese public school on the evening of May 23, having been called by Consul Morikawa, and at this meeting a general discussion of the plan of the reception took place. The committee then named ninety-seven Japanese, so-called, with business from the merchant, artisan, labor and gentlemen classes in the city, to take general charge of the reception.

Choose the Fireworks

A few days later some eight or ten of this number met, and without sending notices or otherwise informing the other ninety of their meeting or intention, elected a chairman a reception committee, a fireworks committee, corresponding secretaries, and a general committee of management. The vast majority of the ninety-seven were unaware of these appointments until they saw the announcement of their selection in Seattle Japanese papers. On reading the news, astonishment filled them, and they hurried to Consul Morikawa, and asked that justice be done, that a representative committee be appointed. They say the Consul conceded that their request was "right and just," and that it would be considered, and a definite answer given them on the last day of May. No reply coming to hand as late as June 2, the cosmopolitans again waited on the Consul, but this time they declare he was evasive and indefinite, informing the committee that the lists published in the Seattle papers was unauthorized, and the elections had not taken place. The "righteous party," as they call themselves, declare that they had positive evidence from the Vancouver representatives of the Seattle journals that the elections had taken place as published, and the representatives had taken part in them.

DROWNED IN THAMES.

Fate of American Man and Woman Who Went Boating.

London, June 7.—Two Americans, Otto Ellerich, who resided at Freeport, L. I., and whose place of business was at 42 Broadway, New York, and Mrs. E. M. McLean, of New York, were drowned in the Thames near Cliveden yesterday afternoon while boating. Their bodies were recovered, taken to an inn and remained there unidentified over night. Although they were recognized to be Americans, neither of them had papers or other means of identification at the time, but they were traced today through a showmaker's receipt for mending, found on Mr. Ellerich's body. The showmaker remembered having sent a pair of shoes which he repaired to a certain room at the Imperial hotel here, where Mr. Ellerich stopped.

Mrs. McLean, it was further ascertained, had been staying with a Miss Munroe, supposed to be her sister, at the Russell hotel. Miss Munroe sat up over night awaiting Mrs. McLean's return, not knowing where she had gone.

It appears that Mr. Ellerich and Mrs. McLean took a train for Marblehead yesterday afternoon and engaged a boat for a row on the Thames. The boatman overheard Mr. Ellerich call his companion "Molly," and it was noticed that the former was not an oarsman. He ran his boat against the root of a tree and shouted to his companion, "Jump the boat is filling with water." Both jumped immediately into the river and sank in ten feet of water. The body of Mrs. McLean was soon recovered, but that of Mr. Ellerich was swept away and was not found until late in the afternoon. Mrs. McLean is believed to have been a widow. The full name of the drowned woman was Mrs. E. Mary McLean.

Fruit-a-tives

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" differ
from any other remedy in the world.

They cure, absolutely, Stomach, Liver, Kidney,
Bowel and Skin Troubles.

Because none of the usual remedies have given you relief, is no reason why you should not give "Fruit-a-tives" a good, honest trial.

Fresh fruit acts directly on the three great eliminating organs—Bowels, Kidneys and Skin. But fruit contains only a minute quantity of the medicinal principles and in order to receive any marked benefit from fruit, one would be compelled to eat more than could be assimilated by the system.

"Fruit-a-tives" contain all the curative virtues of fruit in a wonderfully concentrated form.

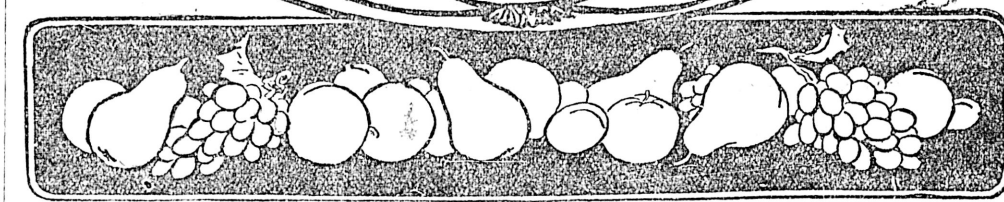

In making "Fruit-a-tives," the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes are combined—and, by a wonderful discovery of a famous physician, a chemical change takes place in the juices, by which the medicinal action is many times increased. Then tonics are added, and the whole compressed into tablets.

"Fruit-a-tives" contain no Calomel—no Cascara—no Senna—no Morphine—no violent purgatives—only fruit juices and tonics.

"Fruit-a-tives" act directly on the Bowels, Kidneys and Skin—strengthening them—and arousing them to vigorous action. With the Kidneys healthy—the Bowels moving regularly every day—the Liver active—and the pores of the skin doing their full share towards ridding the system of waste—there can be no disease. "Fruit-a-tives" mean health for every member of the family.

50c. a box—6 boxes for $2.50. Sent to any address on receipt of price if your druggist does not handle them.

TOO MUCH DELAY

This is June, 1907. The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is to be completed in four years. There appears to be some doubt yet even as to the pass by which the line will come through the Rocky Mountains. The statement was made some months ago that the Yellow Head Pass had been selected, but a very recent report says that the line is to run to the north of the route leading to that pass and if that is the case, it will penetrate the mountains by some other valley. Of a northerly location of the line the Colonist has not adverse criticism to offer. What it wishes to speak about is the great delay in beginning work in this province. It is hardly possible that anything will be done this year. At least there are no signs of such a thing at present and the preliminary work necessary before actual construction can be begun can hardly be completed so as to enable much to be accomplished before winter sets in. It looks now as if 1907 would pass without even a mile of the new road being graded in British Columbia. The public regards this delay as unjustifiable. People in British Columbia are not given to complaining. They have their own interests to attend to and these sufficiently occupy their attention, but whenever reference is made to the Grand Trunk Pacific dissatisfaction is expressed at the long wait before actual work is undertaken. As a matter of fact, it is exceedingly rare that any one speaks of this railway as a factor that will contribute to the development of the province. It is take leave to doubt if Mr. Thompson, when he read the letters from Mr. Jays at the last general election, anticipated that 1907 would pass without the promise therein contained being fulfilled.

The part of the province to be traversed by the G. T. Pacific will not be opened as soon as it ought to be in view of the prospects of immigration into the province. If the line were now under construction people would flock into the area both north and south of the route. Already they are going in notwithstanding the obstacles due to lack of efficient means of transportation. There would be thousands in the country, where there are hundreds now, if the railway were under construction. The progress of the province is being retarded by the failure of the company to live up to the spirit of its agreement with the government.

A GREAT PLEASURE RESORT

Vancouver Island has many things to recommend it to the world. Its natural wealth is enormous, and will in a short time be utilized to such a degree as to transform conditions. It has also an asset in its possibilities as a great summer resort. Nature seems to have exhausted herself in what she has done for us in this respect. Take the case of the West Coast. There is to be found one of the most remarkable ocean beaches in the world. It is miles in length and upon it the breakers from the ocean have pounded for no one knows how many centuries. People who know it say that nothing more magnificent in the way of surf can be imagined. In the same neighborhood are hot springs. A short distance from the coast the mountains begin to rise. In the streams there are trout in abundance; on the mountain sides an abundance of game. The mountaineer can find delight in climbing. This beach is easily reached from Alberni, and when the Canadian Pacific has extended its line to that point, it will be only a pleasant day's journey by rail and steamer from Victoria to this most admirable site for a summer hotel.

Then there are Sproat, Great Central and Buttle's lakes, all of which will be made easy of access by the proposed extensions of the E. & N., that the C. P. R. has in hand. These lakes lie in the midst of the wonderful scenery, and the sports of fishing, hunting and mountain climbing can be prosecuted under very favorable surroundings. It will not be long before summer hotels on these lakes will compete for tourist and other travel. Then we have Campbell, Cowichan, and other rivers on the east coast, with their wealth of fish life, Shownigan, Cowichan, Cameron and countless other lakes which can easily be made popular summer resorts. Besides these there are doubtless many spots in the unexplored interior of the Island, which will, when we know more about the country, be found quite as attractive as those referred to.

"PULL TOGETHER"

Yesterday the Colonist had an interview with Mr. Griffith, of the firm of Robertson & Griffith, who have just embarked in business in this city, the concluding portion of which is as follows:

"The reporter asked Mr. Griffith his opinion of Victoria as a commercial and manufacturing centre. His answer was: 'You must first pull together and go out with determination if you expect to succeed. Victoria cannot drift any longer. Your natural surroundings are bound to bring new settlers from all parts and if your citizens show the same active spirit in the line of manufacture and commerce as they have done to bring in the tourist the city should double in population and commerce in ten years.'

We think we are stating the case accurately when we say that Mr. Griffith's advice to 'pull together' is that by which nine out of every ten newcomers express their opinion as to what is necessary in order for Victoria to advance at a quicker pace. Nothing is truer than 'the onlooker sees most of the game'; and we may take it as truly indicative of the existence of something which needs remedying when we are told so often by those best in a position to judge that we should try and arrange to 'pull together' on questions which aim at the commercial advancement of the city. It is not in any sense treasonable to admit that it is unfortunately true that as a community we do not 'pull together.' We are all agreed that we do not; and we discuss that fact among ourselves with as little hope of eliminating the factors which contribute to the perpetuation of the practice as we would in attempting to solve the problem of aerial navigation. But, seriously, is it not about time that we make a volte face on this matter? Is there any particular reason why we should not 'pull together?' In attempting to answer that question with any degree of satisfaction we are confronted with another—Why have we not always 'pulled together?' We believe that is because of the fact that Victoria is in a special sense one of the most peculiarly constituted communities on the continent. For many years it was peopled almost entirely by the pioneers of the West and their descendants, who were to a degree isolated from the rest of the world, and thus lived as a complete social entity, satisfied with its position and supremely content with its lot. There was nothing in such a situation that cannot be admitted with candor. It implies no discredit of any sort. But as the result of such a situation it is undoubtedly true that the invasion of the newcomer, with his ideas for progress and expansion, was resented, not perhaps by spoken word but nevertheless by general consent. As a consequence a spirit of mistrust was engendered in the community. That is to say, when some progressive individual who had the misfortune not to have been permitted to participate in the rush to Cariboo in 1862 had the temerity to advance an idea aiming at civic advancement, he was figuratively speaking, sat upon, and with such success that he generally subsided and made no further attempt along the principle of the tail attempting to wag the dog. And while much has been done in recent years in the exercising of this spirit, it makes itself felt not infrequently today. Too often, when an idea is put forward for a project aiming, on the face of it, for commercial expansion, the whisper goes around: 'What's his graft? What's behind this?' We must, as the phrase is, 'cut this out.' Instead of regarding every new suggestion with distrust and seeking to discover some ulterior motive, let us approach a consideration of it imbued with a desire to try and discover its merits and utilize them. Until such time as we do, we cannot hope to do our full duty to ourselves nor reap the advantage which prodigal Opportunity has placed within our reach.

SAVING TIME

In discussing the 'All Red' route an exchange speaks of a proposal to tunnel the Irish Sea, saying that even the saving of a half hour must be taken into account. We fancy that this is 'writ sarcastik' nevertheless on a route many thousands miles long and in the course of which there are several changes, small savings of time are not to be disregarded. The Irish Sea will never be tunneled but it can readily be traversed by ferries carrying railway trains at fast speed, and thus if a point on the west coast of Ireland should be chosen as the port of the new Imperial steamship line, there need be no interruption in the train journey between London and the terminus of the ocean voyage.

There is considerable rivalry between towns in the United Kingdom for the advantages and prestige which would attach to the terminal of the proposed line, and we observe the same thing in Canada. Halifax has its claim; so has St. John. Quebec insists that its situation makes it par excellence the proper terminal point from the steamships on this side of the Atlantic, and Montreal scouts the idea of the voyage up the St. Lawrence being eliminated as likely to lead to delay. The object of the scheme is two-fold. One is to save all the time possible, and the other is to give shippers in the United Kingdom and the Colonies exceptional facilities for the development of Inter-Imperial trade. Time seems to be an almost 'the essence' of the proposal, and therefore we shall be surprised if any plan finds acceptance with its promoters, which does not take advantage of the shortest feasible route. It is for this reason that we regard the project as one of special interest to Victoria and Vancouver Island. The service will call for large and costly ships. These will not be sent up narrow channels, in which great speed cannot be maintained, and where atmospheric conditions may greatly interfere with navigation, provided harbors are available at which such conditions are reduced, by nature to a minimum.

This subject has been discussed in the newspapers of Boston, Mass. In the province of New Brunswick there is a railway of no very great pretensions, some eighty miles long, extending from St. John to St. Stephen, a town on the frontier directly opposite Calais, Maine. The Maine Central Railway, the principal line in New England, has one of its termini at Calais. Mr. E. H. Harriman is alleged to be after the control of the New Brunswick line with the object of connecting it with the Maine Central and thus secure a direct line from Boston to St. John. At Boston the Harriman system would afford connection with all parts of the United States. The Canadian Pacific does not want the New Brunswick Southern, as the road mentioned above is called because it already owns a line between the same terminal points. It is said to be out to secure the Maine Central, and thus not only cut Harriman out of a St. John connection, but at the same time acquire a very excellent piece of property. There have been no developments during the last week or two, but the Boston Journal said that, while all the rumors above mentioned would be denied, there was not the least truth that Harriman was aiming to get into St. John, so as to give his roads the benefits resulting from the proposed 'All Red' line.

We observe a distinct hostility on the part of the Montreal papers towards any enterprise, which contemplates that any other city than theirs shall be the terminus of a fast steamship line during the summer. The new undertaking is derided as a revival of a project, which, it is said, 'was shown to be a failure fifty years ago,' a project of which Wilnot of New Brunswick, and Johnston and Howe of Nova Scotia were prominent advocates. These men were only ahead of their time. They advocated the Canadian Pacific Railway, although not of course under that name, years before Confederation, and even before they did, Judge Halliburton, better known to the world as 'Sam Slick,' wrote of a time when a railway from Halifax to Esquimaux would be an Imperial highway. The Montreal papers may find it convenient to belittle the anticipations of these prophets of Imperialism, but after all the city on the St. Lawrence is not the only place on the map.

DOMESTIC HELP

Lloyd's Weekly of recent date has an interview with a Canadian lady on the subject of domestic help. As far as we are able to judge, she gives a fairly correct idea of what is needed in the way of women servants in the Central Provinces, and to a certain extent what she says applies with much truth to the requirements of the well-to-do residents in the cities. There is, and probably always will be, a conspicuous lack of girls, who are able to perform the duties of housework and at the same time present an attractive appearance. The lady interviewed expressed her surprise at being waited upon in an English home at afternoon tea by 'a young duchess,' thereby referring to the neat appearance and self-possessed manner of the maid who was serving tea. We fear that if the Canadian lady voices the views of her sex, and if Canadian ladies generally are looking for girls, who can cook, wash dishes, keep the house in order, and then on at-home days preside over the tea-table with the grace of a duchess, they need not expect the ordinary immigration agencies to be able to meet their demands. The interviewee, if we may coin a word, made out a very rough picture of life in Canada for the maid of all work. She said that her husband had given her a pony, on which she rode to dances in the neighborhood. We fear that this is not exactly the way girls coming to Canada to engage in domestic service would find things. There is not the least use in holding out inducements for 'duchesses' to come out here and work in the kitchen. A domestic servant is not a household pet in Canada. She is expected to earn her living. Except in a small minority of households, she will be treated with respect, but as a rule, if she comes here thinking that she is going to be one of the family, and have a pony so that she can ride to dances, she will be very likely disillusioned before she has been many days in her new home. There is not the least use in drawing fancy pictures. There are doubtless places on the prairies, where a domestic servant is regarded more as a companion than as an employee of the mistress of the house, but to convey the impression that this sort of thing is general throughout the Dominion would be to present the case in the wrong light.

We think that the situation of domestic servants, by which we now mean female servants, may be fairly stated to be the same as that of any other persons, who work for wages. They are treated with the respect and accorded all the privileges, which are consistent with the work, which they are employed to perform. They will be disappointed if they come here expecting to be treated as social equals, or as the lady above mentioned said, 'to be played with' by their employers. They will be respected exactly as they respect themselves. They may also rest assured that there is no social position in the Dominion to which they may not aspire, provided they are fitted for it.

Mr. Virtue thinks a canvas city on Macaulay Plains would be a good thing. Mr. Virtue is an authority on catering to the public needs. His advice will be pretty safe to follow.

Our esteemed evening contemporary disputes the proposition of the Colonist that rascality is essentially cowardly. There is an older authority than the Colonist, which declares that 'the wicked flee when no man pursueth, but the righteous as bold as a lion.'

An influential committee has been appointed by the president of the American Mining Congress for the purpose of drafting a law, which will do away with the vexed problems arising in the United States under what is known as 'the apex law.' In British Columbia, the holder of a mineral claim has no rights outside of the limits of his claim; in the United States he is allowed to follow the ore, and out of this right no end of troublesome litigation has arisen. The proposed change, if it is carried into effect, will make the law of that country similar to that of British Columbia.

SPIRIT OF THE PRESS

The Stock Market

The outlook, therefore, for stock market centres is better than could have been anticipated from the rather gloomy predictions of a week ago. Money is not much easier here, although there is a perceptible lessening of demand, and by the end of June, bankers should have enough to spare for market purposes.—Montreal Witness.

Edward Blake

Canada has bred few older or better men than Hon. Edward Blake, who now lies ill in his English home, and few have so prominent a place in Canadian public life. Yet for all this splendid character and ability and the high positions he has held before the people, it is a strange fact that very little of practical account has been said by him and that he has left little permanent impression upon Canadian public affairs or public opinion.—St. John Sun.

Forged Notes

Colonel Denison, whose remarks are usually pertinent and piquant, has criticized bank managers rather strongly. 'It is getting to be a very common practice for bank managers to discount forged notes,' he said in the Toronto police court. 'Yes, they are considered very valuable security,' replied the Crown Attorney. 'If some of these bank managers get into jail, it will serve them right,' concluded his worship. These remarks were made during the hearing of a case, in which a bank manager, charged with the forgery of a note, was ordered to lay a charge of forgery. The prisoner is alleged to have forged a name for four hundred dollars. The bank, which discounted the forged note, will be required to give his explanation of the matter. Perhaps it is too early to make any comment concerning either Colonel Denison's caustic criticism or the subject of forgery. Both are interesting.—Montreal Times.

Pertinent Questions

'May I ask if America, a country that opened Japan to Western civilization, now is going to teach us race prejudice? Last time Japan fought for the Japanese empire; this time she is fighting for the Japanese race?'—From M. Yukawa's Letter.

These pertinent questions are asked in this city, and asked elsewhere in this issue. They are serious questions. They have to do with a vital issue, one which American citizens must meet in a many way and solve according to just principles. Race prejudice is alien to the American system. Race distinctions are not recognized in the law. Whether white or black or brown, every man is the equal of every other man in the eyes of the law. Whatever distinctions of race or color may have existed at the beginning, they have been sponged out of the statute, and sober Americans, in love with the spirit and genius of American institutions, will shrink from the responsibility a return to the old order would impose upon them.

It required four years of bloody struggling to wipe out the racial distinction the supreme court of the United States wrote into the Dred Scott decision. But the old order was changed. Tancy was reversed. The sword was used to cut the cancer of race prejudice out of the American system, and from the stern arbitrament to appeal lies except to the sword again.

Shall the attitude of the American people toward the African be juster than the attitude of the American people toward the Japanese? Shall we admit and merge into our citizenship the dark-skinned, dark-eyed Indians of the prairie, while at the same time closing the door of hope and equal opportunity to a race that boasts of dogs, oxen, and horses? Shall we do more for races that are essentially backward than for a race that is essentially alert, ever quick to learn and to do, and ambitious to achieve the highest of human attainments?

Independent of treaty obligations, and the solemn pledge of the American government, Japanese citizens in this country may rest assured that they are protected by the nation's history. They must not mistake the mob, and the mob's deeds, for the best expansion of Americanism. Behind recent market happenings on the Pacific coast there is a rational public sentiment which will finally put a stop to wanton assaults upon unfriendly Japanese citizens and men who perpetrate these offenses, and local governments that permit them to go unwhipped, will be forced to square the account. Japan and the Japanese may safely leave the issue with Washington and the sane, sober judgment of the American people.—Post-Intelligencer.

LOGGERS TOOK THE ONLY COURSE OPEN

Had Either to Cease Operations or Face Serious Liabilities

FARMERS' INSTITUTE MEETINGS

Business of an Important Nature to be Transacted at Session at Revelstoke Tomorrow

Vancouver, June 6.—"It was shut down, or face liabilities which they would have been unable to meet." Such was the way that one of the best posted men in the logging business sized up the situation today. "The general public has no idea of the manner in which the logging industry has grown during the past few months. While last November there were 90 logging engines in the business on the coast, there has since that time been added another 85 engines to that number. Of these new ones not over ten were required to handle additional difficulties in the way of longer hauls. This will give you some idea of the manner in which the output has increased.

A great many of the new men in the business had very little capital to begin with, and the only thing for the association to do was to carry them over present difficulties, and enable them to meet their liabilities. "It was not that the market would not stand the additional output, but the fact that there was no immediate hope for the market to be reached with even as great a percentage of the product as last year. I regard the present shut down as the best thing that could have been done under the circumstances, and do not think that it will have to last very long, always provided that facilities for handling the output are in better shape by the middle of the summer.

So far as the supply for the local trade is concerned, there will be no difficulty whatever about that."

FARMERS' INSTITUTE

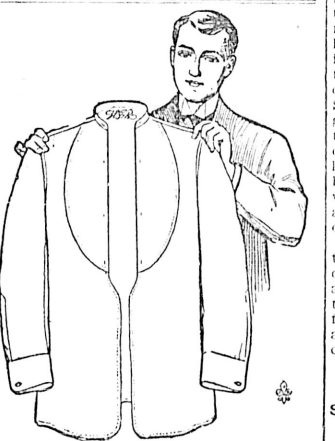

Supplementary Meeting of West Kootenay Branch at Revelstoke

The supplementary meeting of the West Kootenay Farmers' Institute will be held in the court house on Saturday, June 8, says the Revelstoke Mail. The business for transaction is of an important nature and three sessions will be held during the day. In the morning will be the introduction of speakers and subjects for discussion. The judging of dairy cattle by students and an address by Dr. S. E. Colby, V. S., on live stock and other matters. At the afternoon session Mr. W. S. Fraser, of Bradford, Ont., will lecture on noxious weeds, selection of seed and clover; the raising of sheep and hogs, and the cultivation of soil and under drainages. The evening session will be taken up with the discussion of general subjects of interest and Mr. J. R. Anderson, deputy minister of agriculture, will lecture on fruit growing and general institute matters. It is hoped that the attendance will be large as the questions for discussion will be of interest and benefit to all and those who are engaged in fruit and vegetable growing will find that much valuable information will be given. Admission free, and ladies are specially welcome. Sessions will commence at 10.30 a. m. and 2 p. m., and 7.30 p. m.

A DESPERATE CHARACTER.

Negro Who Broke Gaol at Grand Forks Is Bad Man.

Grand Forks, June 5.—That George Thompson, the negro who broke gaol here last Friday evening while awaiting sentence on two charges of theft, was a desperate character is evidenced by a report that has just reached here from Marcus, Wash. It seems that Thompson reached that town on a freight train last Saturday evening and shortly after his arrival he attempted to hold up a citizen, when the alarm was given the town officer and some four citizens started in hot pursuit.

suit of the negro who drew a gun on his pursuers and actually stood the five men off and again succeeded in making his escape, this time he is supposed to have gone towards Spokane. A report has reached here today that a number of white men presumably from Phoenix or thereabouts have made a bodily attack on a number of Chinamen who were engaged in cutting timber on the fourth of July Creek, and horsewhipped the Chinese workmen and drove them off the ground, threatening to shoot them if they ever returned. It appears that a few months ago a syndicate of Chinamen from Rossland purchased a timber limit of 640 acres on the fourth of July Creek and put a number of Chinamen to work to cut the timber off, which action has now been followed by this last outrage of the white men. As an explanation for this outrage it is stated that as the Chinamen are not allowed in Phoenix under any consideration, they don't propose to allow them to work even on their own property which is several miles from Phoenix.

ORGANIZE COAST LOGGERS

Vancouver Trades and Labor Council to Take Immediate Action

Vancouver, June 6.—An attempt is to be made by the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council to harness the tremendous labor power of the logging industry on the coast. The attention of labor men in Vancouver has been drawn to the potentialities of the labor struggle of the loggers by the recent announcement of the British Columbia Loggers' Association that on June 29 it would close sixty-nine camps, which would throw two thousand men out of employment. "These men who are to be thrown out of work will soon be arriving in Vancouver, and having discussed organization with a number of loggers, we have arrived at the conclusion that as the men come in they should be formed into a union," declared a prominent member of the Trades and Labor Council today. "At the meeting of the council tonight the matter will be discussed, and it is almost a certainty that the organization committee will be instructed to organize the loggers. At the outset it may prove somewhat difficult to keep all the men in line, but we have a plan which we believe will overcome that obstacle. With between two and three thousand loggers firmly bound together by ties of mutual self-interest the organization would be one of the most powerful in British Columbia."

Since the announcement of the British Columbia Loggers' Association that all its camps would be shut down it has developed that a number of small operators who are not financially on the right side will find it impossible to cease work unless the association makes provision for them. Many of these small loggers engaged in the industry but recently, and the slump in the market has hit them hard. The cost of production to them has been about $8 per thousand for the camps, and the average price of logs may be said to be about that figure at the camps now. The consequence is that many loggers are facing liabilities which they could not take care of were they to shut their own camps.

On the other hand the overproduction of logs is so great that unless a shut-down occurs many of the loggers will go broke. Many operators are thus uncomfortably squatted upon the horns of a dilemma. The problem which faces many of those engaged in the logging industry at this time is a serious one.

Last November there were ninety logging donkeys in the woods tributary to Vancouver. Since that time eighty-five more have been sent in. Possibly ten of these new engines have been employed in hauling and yarding logs in roads which have been extended long distances into the woods, so they may be said not to have caused any increase in the output, but all the remaining new engines have been engaged in new work, and it is their output which is now causing the overproduction.

MAGISTRATE AS PEACEMAKER

New Westminster, June 6.—Stipendiary Magistrate Pittendrig played the part of a peacemaker yesterday. The subjects on which the captain had qualified were Charles Shannon and George Holbrook, two residents of Burnaby Lake district. On Tuesday they appeared before Captain Pittendrig in the district court. Shannon having accused Holbrook of threatening him with serious bodily injury. The trouble all arose from some blasting operations carried on by Holbrook. Shannon had objected to these on the ground that they constituted a danger to himself and his children. He requested Holbrook in terms more or less polite to desist, and this Holbrook refused to do. Then the fight was on, as the sporting papers say, and the step to the district court was only a short one.

Captain Pittendrig, after hearing the evidence on Tuesday, withheld his decision. Yesterday when the two men appeared for the decision, he told them they had better make friends and is future leave the matter alone. The agreed, and each paid a share of the costs.

was held on ticket No. 56, by Mr. D. Stevens, the engineer on the steamer Rithet.

W. J. Kerr Declares River Can Rise Five Feet

New Westminster, June 6.—"There is no danger of high water on the Pitt Meadows," said Mr. W. J. Kerr yesterday after returning from a trip to that district. "The river has risen nine feet but it will have to swell five feet more before it will touch the dyke, and even then there will be no danger. "The country is looking very well. The stock is in excellent condition, fat and sleek. Vm. Collins, Thos. Mars and others are now shipping strawberries into market at $6.00 per crate. The farmers' crops all look green and fresh and many improvements are under way. Mr. Mars has erected a new house and considerable land is being cleared."

ANGLICAN CLERICUS

Address of Welcome Delivered by Rev. Bishop Dart

Vancouver, June 6.—The first meeting of the International United Church of Christ in the United States, held last evening, the address of welcome being delivered by Right Rev. Bishop Dart, of New Westminster. The meetings were resumed this morning, and the programme today, which was published in the Province of yesterday, was carried out. This evening a stereoscopic lecture will be delivered by Bishop Scadding, of Oregon, whose address will be illuminated with some two hundred lantern slides. The address will describe the history of the Anglican church in the United States, and will have special reference to the missions in Alaska.

Tomorrow the clerics will begin in St. James' Church with the celebration of Holy Communion at 7.30 a. m., and the morning session will be devoted to that church. Two papers will be read, one on The Devotional Use of Holy Scripture, by Rev. C. C. Owen, and another on the Church as a Power for National Righteousness. These papers will be criticised by Rev. J. D. Lloyd, of Seattle and Rev. E. H. Graham, of Nelson respectively.

BIG GAME HUNTER

Sir Edmund Lechmere on His Way Home to England

Vancouver, June 6.—Sir Edmund Lechmere, one of the most noted of England's great game hunters, arrived in the city on the Aorangi this morning on his way to England after a most successful fishing and shooting trip to New Zealand. But for the fact that he spent more time in New Zealand than he at first intended, Sir Edmund would have tested the strength of all he had heard as to the great shooting and fishing to be had in Canada, but as he is intimated to a reporter this morning, he had practically decided that his next trip will be in Canada. Sir Edmund has been in New Zealand since January, having gone out by way of San Francisco. He expresses himself as delighted with the trip on the Aorangi and says that nothing could possibly induce him to travel to the Antipodes again by any other than the "All Red Route."

For many years he has been recognized as one of the greatest of present day hunters, his reputation in this respect having been gained in Africa, where he put in many a winter. He left for the east this afternoon, but will in all probability be back in British Columbia within the year.

FARMERS WORRIED ABOUT HAY CROPS

F. M. Logan Tells of Conditions in the Fraser River Valley

"The fruit crops in the Fraser River valley are looking fine and the harvest promises to be abundant, but the farmers are at the present experiencing a lot of anxiety in regard to the growth of hay, and are afraid that if they do not get an adequate supply of rain immediately the crop will be a failure," said F. M. Logan, provincial dairy and live stock commissioner, who returned yesterday from the Mainland.

Mr. Logan visited several Mainland districts on Institute work and addressed large meetings of farmers at Stevenson, Elburne, Brownsville, Cloverdale, Surrey Center and Langley. He lectured on dairy and live stock subjects and the holding of stock judging competitions, and found an increased interest among the stock breeders everywhere he went. At New Westminster Mr. Logan found preparations well under way for the big fair to be held in October. Caretakers were now erecting his patent cow stalls. He inspected the work and was much pleased with the progress. The use of these stalls at the exhibition, Mr. Logan believes will have a good effect on the farmers he has been endeavoring for some time to work interest in them, as they will be able to see the practical advantage afforded and be convinced of the simplicity and small cost of construction.

On Thursday night Mr. Logan attended a meeting in Vancouver called for the purpose of organizing an exhibition association in that city. The Jockey Club, the Kennel Club, the Poultry association and different other organizations were well represented, and there was much enthusiasm over the project. The following motion was carried: "That in the opinion of this meeting the time has arrived for the establishment of an Exhibition Association for Vancouver, to embrace fat stock horses, dogs, and poultry, also horticultural and agricultural interests, and also for the object of maintaining the city of Vancouver in that leading position she by right should occupy."

Mr. Logan in addressing the meeting said he was pleased to see so much interest taken in the question under consideration, but it was his opinion that in view of the fact that New Westminster had a well established fair from which Vancouver derived equally as much benefit as the Royal City, that the time was not yet at hand for two large exhibitions of the same nature so close together in time and place. He had no doubt but the time would soon come when there would be room enough for both. He suggested that for the present Vancouver should confine its energies to a show that would include only horses, fat stock, poultry and dogs with a horse parade, and that the city should endeavor to have the best of the material they possessed for a first class show.

Vancouver, June 6.—The marriage took place on Wednesday evening at the residence of the officiating minister Rev. J. M. McLeod, 227 Dunley avenue, of E. M. West, of Bellingham and Mrs. Metta Raymond, the late popular matron of the city. Before leaving the city Mrs. Raymond received many presents as tokens of the esteem in which she was held here. For the past three and a half years she has held the position of jail matron in this capacity she has done a noble work and the efforts of her true womanly influence on those unfortunate ones with whom she came in contact can scarcely be overestimated. She was thoroughly interested in her work and was never tired urging upon mothers their Godgiven responsibility in respect to their children. Accompanied by her husband, Mrs. West will at once take up her residence in Bellingham, whither she will be followed by the best of wishes of all who knew her.

ARE INVESTIGATING VANCOUVER ISLAND

Well Known Real Estate Men From East Impressed With Prospects

Prompted by several inquiries from clients throughout the prairie provinces in regard to property in Victoria and on Vancouver Island, J. G. Clark, of Calgary, and E. W. Hodson, of Toronto, who do a large real estate business in the northwest, have come to the coast for the purpose of satisfying themselves as to the true condition of affairs. They have visited several parts of the island and are today in the city.

Interviewed by a reporter for the Colonist Mr. Clark said he and his partner were most favorably impressed with the opportunities they had seen for light farming and the building of beautiful residences. He was just a little doubtful about the prevailing price of Victoria property, and was of the opinion that the amounts now asked would be quite high enough next fall when some people would realize more than is possible today. However, there was no denying the fact that there would be an ever-increasing demand for residential property in this city as it was the choicest place for a home that he knew of in Canada.

Messrs. Clark and Hodson will leave in a couple of days for the interior where they intend to look over lands in the Okanagan and other fruit-growing sections. They will return to Victoria in the course of a couple of months and expect then to be able to do some business in the realty line.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height are to distinguish high water from low water. The height is measured from the level of the lower low water at spring tides. This level corresponds with the datum which the soundings on the Admiralty chart of Victoria harbor are referred as closely as can now be ascertained.

WILL GO INTO CAMP TOMORROW MORNING

Annual Drill Season For the Fifth Regiment Will Commence

Promptly at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning the members of the Fifth regiment C. A. will parade at the drill hall, in full marching order, prepared to march to the plains of Anacaulay, their summer headquarters. The regimental and life and drum bands will be in attendance and will render an unrelenting series of enlivening airs on the way to the scene of the camp.

Immediately on reaching Macaulay Point the corps will split into sections, the tents, blankets and other supplies will be distributed and all necessary preparations made for the tent pitching competition. This is an annual affair. It is a contest in which the whole of the regiment, placed in five men each, the aggregation succeeding in raising the canvas and putting it in the neatest shape in the best time being awarded a cash prize offered by the commanding officer. The work of inaugurating the camp having been accomplished the men are dismissed for the remainder of the day.

On Monday the drills will commence. Every night from that time for a period of sixteen days the members of the corps will be expected to train. The garrison and artillery companies respectively will have special instruction on the big guns and on the field artillery. Alternately they will engage in infantry manoeuvres. In order to lend just sufficient variety to the work there will be various forms of entertainment, the principal of which will be the field day, which takes place on the Saturday preceding the breaking up of camp.

Li-Col. Hall and his staff has determined to stringently enforce military discipline this year, and on the eve of the camp they wish the state-ment emphasized. Men have been employed to act as patrols, to maintain law and order both in and out of camp among the members of the militia. All will be expected to attend drill regularly unless something intervenes which renders it absolutely impossible to be present at the call of the roll. In that event the man concerned must notify the company or commanding officer and obtain leave of absence. Where there is what is considered a sufficient excuse this will be granted, but those who remain away under other circumstances will be dealt with summarily.

One of the features of the forthcoming camp is the expected inspection by General Lake, commanding the militia forces of Canada. Although there has been no official announcement to the effect that he contemplates visiting Victoria during the period the militia is under canvas, it is believed that he will make a trip west and will come to this city in time to inspect the corps before it returns from its summer headquarters. Li-Col. Hall is, therefore, desirous of having the regiment made efficient as possible and asks the co-operation of officers and men alike in a united endeavor towards that end.

SCARCITY OF LABOR

IS DELAYING WORK

Shortage of Workers Interferes With Filling In James Bay Flats

The city will be prepared to rush work on the filling in of the James Bay flats by Monday next. The spur from the Government street car line will by then be completed, and for some time the city engineer has had a number of teams employed in hauling earth from the city property at the Willows to the grounds of the hotel, but the process is a slow one. Some additional earth has been purchased from contractors engaged in excavating at different parts of the city, but the question as to where the balance required is to come from is still in the air.

In all 23,000 cubic yards of earth must be supplied by the corporation. They have about 19,000 yards in sight. Of this, 15,000 will be obtained from Spring Ridge and about 4,000 from the Willows.

One difficulty which is delaying the work is the trouble in obtaining labor. City Engineer Topp states that the matter is a serious one. At the present time the city's scale of pay for ordinary unskilled labor is higher than that paid by many private companies. The minimum wage for an eight-hour day is $2.25, and many of the men are paid $2.50. Yet in spite of this the required number of men cannot be obtained. There is, in Mr. Topp's estimation, a great scarcity of labor in the city. There is any amount of work to be obtained.

PREPARATIONS MADE FOR WINNIPEG FAIR

Ali That Is Now Necessary For Fruit Exhibit Is Money

All preparations for the fruit, shrubbery and flower exhibit, representative of the southern end of Vancouver Island, which will be entered at the Winnipeg exposition next month have been completed. The details are well in hand, as was shown by the reports received at a meeting of the general committee in charge of the arrangements held yesterday afternoon at the rooms of the Victoria Development and Tourist Association. It has been decided that the display will be placed in the centre of a stately building. It will be in the shape of two crescents joining at the centre and circling outward, shrubbery flowers and grain being shown at the ends, while on the respective sides will be fruit and bulbs and a picture gallery. The latter, Mr. Cuthbert, secretary of the association, explained, would include views of local scenery and illustrations of the most beautiful of the suburban resorts of the vicinity.

This outline of the design of the display was received with favor and, after some discussion, was endorsed unanimously. The inquiry as to the money was submitted by the finance committee which showed that the total expenditure involved in establishing the exhibit at Winnipeg and in maintaining it during the progress of the fair would reach a total of $15,000. The latter, Mr. Cuthbert, explained, was undertaking to defray more than half of the cost. There remained only $600 to account for and Secretary Cuthbert said there was every reason to believe that it could be secured through subscriptions and in other ways without the least difficulty. The subject was debated, the assistance of the press requested, and finally it was agreed that A. W. McCurdy and Beaumont Boggs should be a committee to wait on the different real estate agents for the purpose of enlisting their financial and personal co-operation in carrying the project through to a successful issue.

It was stated by T. W. Mardindale, to whom is entrusted the work of collecting the fruit and arranging for its shipment, that it would be necessary to send a quantity of fresh supplies every day during the exposition. He said that it was his intention to make a specialty of cherries, early apples and plums and all other small fruits which were procurable at that early season of the year. Some would be preserved but the biggest showing would be of fresh fruits on the branch. This method, he thought, made the most striking display. As it was necessary that the fruit should be in good condition, it would be imperative that shipments should be made daily. The expense, he pointed out, could be reduced to a large extent through the sale of the fruit in Winnipeg after it had been exhibited.

Messrs. Olsson and Wallace, who are handling the shrubbery and the floral ends of the display respectively, both stated that the indications were that they would be able to get together a creditable collection. Mr. Olsson stated that the shrubbery was not as plentiful or as good so early in the year as it would be later on. Still he intended to have a good showing. Much the same expression of opinion was given by Mr. Wallace. With his experience in the handling of bulbs and flowers, whether of the pot or of the cut variety, those present appeared confident that he would succeed in making his particular feature of the display altogether admirable.

Secretary Cuthbert says that there is only one thing standing in the way of the success of the project and that is the $600 that is required in addition to that already on hand. He hopes that the real estate men, the businessmen and citizens generally will do what they can to assist in making this effort to advertise the southern agricultural sections of Vancouver Island throughout the prairie provinces an unqualified success.

GROWING TOBACCO ON VANCOUVER ISLAND

Industry Started At Nanaimo With Every Prospect of Success

The tobacco men who recently purchased land near Nanaimo to experiment with tobacco growing on Vancouver Island, are more than pleased with the success they have met with so far. All their plants are now above ground and doing well. The place on which the tobacco is being grown is an ideal one for their purpose, giving them plenty of fresh water with which they are irrigating the land, tobacco plants taking a lot of water. They intend building a concrete dam on the creek at their place and form a reservoir.

Besides the tobacco business, they are also going in extensively for fruit and yesterday placed a large order with Mr. John Hilbert for fruit trees. Later they intend going in for grapes.

At present they are somewhat handicapped by there being no good approach to their ranch. A suitable road could be constructed to the ranch by the government at a small cost.

The Wasting Process of Disease.

Disease is a tearing down, wasting away and destroying of the tissues of the body and a shrivelling up of the nerve cells and blood corpuscles. Nature demands assistance to overcome this dreadful wasting process and the needed help is best supplied by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great blood builder and nerve restorative.

WILL MAKE COWICHAN CENTRE FOR TOURISTS

Canadian Pacific Said To Have Extensive Plans For Developing Valley

The general belief that the Canadian Pacific Railway company has determined to construct a spur from the C. & N. line at Duncan, through the Cowichan valley, to the lake bearing that name; the possibility of the river and the body of water from which it derives its existence being made a lasting resort; and the growing popularity of that locality among the enthusiastic wielders of the rod and line, has brought the district more prominently before the public than ever before. It is stated that property in the vicinity of Duncan is rising in price and that there is every indication that from this point forth the little village will expand while the section of which it is the hub will become even more prosperous.

The consensus of opinion is that the C. P. R. intends constructing the line mentioned in the near future. The company has recently received a party into that district recently appears to have convinced the least sanguine that the management of the railway has at last come to a decision, at least as to that part of the development of their island system. It is said that the company has decided to increase the popularity of the district as a tourist resort and the first move in that direction will be the improving of the fishing on the river, and above all, the preservation of the fish that are already there. With plenty of good sport, a fine country from the standpoint of scenery and climate, it is believed that the C. P. R. would have no difficulty in inducing large numbers of pleasure seekers to spend some weeks there during the summer months.

From a reliable source it is learned that the C. P. R. in order to provide accommodation for such pleasure seekers, will construct a small but thoroughly modern chalet, modelled after those charming buildings which are to be found at the different resorts along the main line of the Canadian Pacific railway. This would be located, either at Cowichan Lake or somewhere along the banks of the river. Although not large, comparatively speaking, it would be sufficient to accommodate comfortably shelter a number of visitors.

The people of Duncan and the surrounding districts are confident that if the C. P. R. takes up this matter in the way outlined the district will become a most popular tourist centre in the not distant future.

CENSUS FIGURES ARE NOT BELIEVED HERE

Figures Given Out At Ottawa Are Branded As Inaccurate

The statement made by the census department at Ottawa which appeared in the Colonist of Thursday morning with regard to the manufacture of the Dominion for the year 1906 as compared with 1901 is not believed to do justice to Victoria.

The statement credits Victoria with but $2,339,276 of manufactured products as compared with $2,617,573 and this after the unexampled progress of the past five years.

Discussing the matter Mayor Morley stated that in his estimation some mistake had been made.

"Why," he remarked, "all the larger manufacturing plants of the city have greatly increased their output and in addition a large number of smaller ones have sprung up. But one industry, of any size, the Albion Iron Works has left the city, and to offset that a new firm Bullen Company are doing almost as much business while the Victoria Machinery Depot have more than doubled their output and have added a ship repairing department."

"Take for instance," he continued, "the cement works which should be reckoned as belonging to Victoria. It has come into existence since 1900, and should be reckoned as the biggest manufacturing plant that we have ever had. The soap works are doing a great increased business while cigar making, the lumber industry and a score of others, there has been a great increase in the volume of the product turned out."

Continuing his remarks, he referred to the establishment here of the Turner-Brooks factory, and to the dozens of smaller concerns, such as Spencer and Foster for manufacturing establishments which have sprung up. Either there has been an error in reporting the department's figures or a gross injustice has been done to the capital of British Columbia.

Herbert Cuthbert, secretary of the Tourist Association expressed the same opinion.

"I shall certainly write to the department, he remarked, and ask upon what information they have based their figures, for it is certainly not a fair estimate of the condition of affairs here."

"The various manufacturing concerns of the city have greatly increased their output and are constantly enlarging their plants, and increasing the number of their employees, so that it is exasperating to hear of the Turner-Brooks factory, and to the dozens of smaller concerns, such as Spencer and Foster for manufacturing establishments which have sprung up. Either there has been an error in reporting the department's figures or a gross injustice has been done to the capital of British Columbia."

Mr. Cuthbert went on and instanced the various companies, some of which have doubled and trebled their output in the last few years. The figures of the department if correctly quoted must be incomplete.

OFFICIAL REPORT ON "ALL-RED" PROJECT

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Speech in Introducing Subject At Col- onial Conference

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in proposing his all-British mail route scheme at the last sitting of the colonial conference in London, introduced a question which aroused much discussion and interest.

In an editorial on the work of the conference the London Times concluded with the following remarks: "An all-British route through Canada to Australasia was the subject which mainly occupied the last sitting of the conference. Sir Wilfrid Laurier moved a resolution in favor of the establishment of a new mail service which would bring Halifax within four days of England and Vancouver within eight days. From that point he hoped that the service may be continued across the Pacific at a speed of eighteen knots, though he evidently doubts whether this ideal could be immediately realized. But the prime minister of New Zealand was not satisfied with his suggestion. It would not, he said, bring his colony any nearer in point of time than the San Francisco service had done. What New Zealand wants is to be brought within twenty days' journey of the Mother Country, and she would be willing, Sir Joseph says, to pay £100,000 a year for that end. Sir Joseph contends for a Pacific service of at least twenty-two or twenty-three knots, even if this scheme costs the contributing states £300,000 or £400,000 a year. The voyage by way of the Suez canal takes six weeks and leaves New Zealand 'in the back woods.' She wishes to promote immigration, and there is no better way of promoting it than by making the transit to the new land swift and easy. The Australian statesmen were somewhat cooler in their appreciation. Deakin, with his usual shrewdness, gave a qualified support to the proposal, but they pointed out that the scheme would be expensive, and that the proposed line would be a line for mails and passengers only from England, as the two trans-shipments would be fatal to a thorough traffic in merchandise."

"The attitude of Mr. Lloyd-George was non-committal. The government he explained, had not had time to put forward their considered views upon the project; it had been brought forward too late. The next morning, however, he was absolutely and he agreed with Mr. Deakin that the scheme should be submitted to experts, together with any proposals which Australia or others might make in regard to the Suez canal route. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in reply, remarked that he did not agree with Mr. Lloyd-George in considering that this is a question for experts. He holds it to be a high policy, and it assuredly is. The resolution was finally adopted with unanimity by the conference in a somewhat modified form, and we satisfy that it may lead to practical results."

"We do not dispute the view that expert examination of the project is desirable, and indeed, indispensable; but the plan itself ought not to be adopted or projected merely upon considerations of profit and loss. In certain circumstances the commercial value of such a route might be of strategic importance. This aspect of the question was not discussed, or at any rate no report of the discussion is published; but though silence upon it may be advisable, it should not be lost to our sight. Let our own experience and the experience of other nations of Italy, for instance, and of Germany—demonstrate what, indeed, is pretty clear a priori—that few things contribute more powerfully and more directly to the consolidation of national sentiment amongst scattered communities of the same blood than easy and constant communication between them. Community of thought and feeling is the first condition of the growth of that sentiment, and in our days these are best nurtured by the constant flow of both thought and mail."

The Discussion
The following is the official précis of the proceedings at the closing meeting of the conference:

Sir Wilfrid Laurier submitted a resolution of the conference in favor of the establishment of a new mail service to Australia and New Zealand via Canada. His proposal divided itself into two parts, one affecting the Atlantic ocean and the other affecting the Pacific ocean. On the Atlantic side, the service should be equal to the existing service to New York; with an equal service there should be a saving of days, as the difference in favor of Halifax is 300 miles. He allowed four days on the sea and four days across Canada. On the Pacific side, the object was to establish a service of at least 13 knots, but this speed must be regarded as the goal, as would be difficult to start immediately with a service of 18 knots. The cost of the service would be borne by the several contributing governments in equitable shares. Canada would have to contribute in respect of both the shipping services, as it was interested in the maritime trade on both sides of the continent.

Mr. Deakin expressed his satisfaction on the submission of the proposal would welcome it even if it only included the part affecting Canada. He pointed out that owing to two trans-shipments, the line would be one for mails and passengers only. It could become a cargo line. At present Australia was chiefly connected with Great Britain by way of the Suez canal, which saved trans-shipment. They were encouraging swifter means of communication through the Suez canal and via the Cape, but they were interested in both the eastern and western routes. It is a project as that of Sir Wilfrid Laurier could be placed on a sound financial basis, the interest to Australia might become almost as great as that of New Zealand.

Sir W. Lyne observed that the proposed route had been introduced specially as being the all-British route. He feared a very large subsidy would be required for it. He did not think that much less than thirty days would be the time occupied in reaching Australia via New Zealand. It before reaching Sydney. The time occupied over the whole distance would be 27 days without stoppages and with stoppages 30 days. The trade to be served was not great at present, but he thought that parliament would look favorably on the scheme, and should be encouraged to understand, however, that the last thirty knots would double the consumption of coal.

New Zealand's Ideals

Sir Joseph Ward was disappointed at the suggested speed. The time via Vancouver would only be the same as that which they had enjoyed via San Francisco, namely, 27 or 28 days. If they only obtained a speed equal to this, they in New Zealand would not be satisfied. They provided £40,000 now, but they would sooner give as much as £100,000 towards a swift mail service that would bring New Zealand within 20 days of England, but not for an 18 knot service. They were willing to give their preference for the fast service from England to Canada, say between 22 and 24 knots, which would bring Vancouver within eight days of England.

With regard to the Pacific service, he admitted that cargo from England was not to be expected, but only from the Pacific coast of Canada. The greater proportion of cargo from Australia is carried by tramp ships. He felt that a larger subsidy was wanted. But if the service were to go first to Sydney, and then to New Zealand, New Zealand would refuse to contribute. Sydney must, in his opinion, be the terminal port, and the steamers would require to remain at Sydney for fully a week; to then come on to New Zealand would make such a service not worth a large subsidy from New Zealand, whereas by touching at a New Zealand port the steamers could remain only a few days, and then on to the terminal port, and stay there for coaling, overhauling, etc., for a week. The alternative would be for them to run a service via San Francisco, as they had done before. This was a great opportunity to get an all-British route. He argued in favor of a 21-knot service, and was quite prepared to face a large subsidy of £400,000 a year from Britain, Canada, Australia and New Zealand; third class accommodation provided on such route would induce a flow of immigrants and New Zealand would rather spend her money in that way than give a direct grant for emigration; their principle would be to give their support to an all-British route and a fortnightly service.

The route via the Suez canal, which placed her at a distance of six weeks from England, kept her in the backwoods. The adoption of the scheme he favored would bring about a revolution in the establishment of rapid communication with Australia and New Zealand. He argued that tenders should be invited, with a view to ascertaining the cost of what he proposed.

Government Criticism

Mr. Lloyd-George expressed his regret that the proposal of Sir Wilfrid Laurier had not been put forward in sufficient time to enable his majesty's government to put forward their considered views. He pointed out that the discussion which has just taken place indicated how difficult the problem was and he agreed with Mr. Deakin that it was a matter which ought to be gone into by experts. For instance, the cost of such a scheme might prove to be absolutely prohibitive. It is a great speed were required. He thought that the best plan would be for these proposals and any other proposals which might be put forward—for instance, by Australia—in regard to the Suez canal route, to be the subject of expert investigation by representatives appointed by the home governments of the colonies concerned. An important consideration would be the possible effect on such a scheme of the construction of the Panama canal.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was only too pleased that New Zealand did not consider that the proposals were far enough. But, in reply to Mr. Lloyd-George, he did not consider that the question was one of experts, but a question of policy. In deference, however, to what he had said, he was ready to amend his resolution to bring it into harmony with his view.

The resolution was finally placed before the conference in the following form, and was unanimously accepted: "That in the opinion of this conference the interests of the empire demand that in so far as practicable its different positions should be connected by the best possible means of communication, travel and transportation."

"That to this end it is advisable that Great Britain should be connected with Canada and through Canada the best service available within reasonable cost."

"That for the purpose of carrying the above project into effect such financial support as may be necessary should be contributed to Great Britain, Canada, Australia and New Zealand, in equitable proportions."

VIEW OF SAN FRANCISCO.

Bricklayer Writes Telling of Bay City as "No Place for Australians."

Colin McKenzie, a bricklayer, who went from West Matland, Australia, to San Francisco, writes to his home paper concerning his experiences at the Bay city as follows: "I had a trying time looking for work. There are a great many buildings going on, but also a great number of men here to do the work, as many as 40 or 50 on a job, and scores of others looking them up every day for a chance to get a start. I have been on nearly all of the jobs, and the answer is 'I can't make room, but at last I was fortunate enough to meet a fellow from Johannesburg, and he has given me a start. Bricklayers here will not give a stranger a job if they can possibly help it, keeping jobs open for their own kind. I cost the bricklayers $24, to join the union, and they won't let you join straight away. You must first get a job before you can become a member. You have to be a citizen—that is, take out papers that you will become a citizen, and forswear King and country—so you see I have come to a beautiful place. Before you get a job you have to show your ticket. There are over three thousand bricklayers here now, and more coming every week, and they are now closing against taking more into the lodge. Jobs are all kept waiting for material, principally for the building of new bridges. All old bridges are being replaced, and when the old bridges begin to get scarce they will not be able to keep one-quarter of the bricklayers going."

"Work here is terribly rough. I am thoroughly disgusted at the style in which it is done. Just thrown together. Plumbers are worse off than bricklayers, having to pay $40 down, then pass an examination, when they have to pay $20 more, making $70 to join the union. Failing to pass the examination they lose $20. There are several from Australia doing laborer's work, not having enough funds to join the union."

"I think San Francisco the most ungodly place a man was ever in. They work at nearly all factories, from works, etc., on Sunday, as well as all kinds of amusements going on. If any of our friends here things are here, I advise one and all not to leave Australia for San Francisco. It is no place for Australians."

APARTMENT HOUSES

Architect Preparing Plans for One—Angela College to be Used

A movement is on foot to establish one or more apartment houses in Victoria. It is announced that the intention to convert the old Angela college into such a place, while one of the most prominent of the local architects has been commissioned to prepare plans for a much more pretentious structure. While he is not in a position to divulge the identity of those behind the scheme he says that the proposed apartment house will be modeled after the finest of those found in the large American centres. He has been instructed to prepare plans for a large airy building, supplied with all the most up-to-date conveniences, and if the project is carried through Victoria will have just as fine an apartment house as can be found anywhere on the coast.

The importance of providing more accommodation, here is becoming generally recognized. Both Mayor Morley and Herbert Cuthbert, secretary of the Victoria Development and Tourist Association, believe that it is absolutely necessary that some steps should be taken to provide for the housing of the permanent home-seekers and the visitors who may be expected to arrive during the summer months. Both are continually receiving inquiries from people who have been unable to find suitable lodgings. Mr. Cuthbert says that there have been visitors who have remained here for three weeks and more in search of a house or a suite of rooms, moderately convenient in respect to location and general comfort, and who have left disappointed. The mayor relates a number of incidents of a similar character, but points more particularly to the fact, published in yesterday's Colonist, that one family wished to rent a house, but that additions may be added to more accommodation is needed. A large and roomy basement will be a feature of the new structure. Tenders are being called for now and immediately the contract is let the work will be rushed to completion.

The situation, Mayor Morley says, warrants the construction of apartment houses. He believes they would be filled from the date of their opening. But he also believes that some temporary relief should be provided. He suggests that the owners of large buildings, which might be converted into dwellings, should take steps to have them provided with the necessary furnishings and then notify the secretary of the Victoria Development and Tourist Association and the civic authorities. He thinks that those having rooms, single or in suites, should take the same action so that when inquiries are received the strangers may be given directions with some hope of their becoming satisfied.

J. A. Virtue, proprietor of the Oak Bay hotel, also recognizes the importance of something being done immediately. He advocates the establishment of a tented city at some of the adjacent suburban resorts. He is of the opinion that this could be done without causing much trouble or expense. And he is convinced that the tents would not only prove satisfactory to the visitors but would be an additional attraction to them. He hopes that the idea will be favorably received and carried to a successful issue.

Disgrace and Suicide
San Antonio, Tex., June 7.—Lt. Mack Richardson, whose resignation was accepted yesterday by President Roosevelt, was found unconscious in his room today at Fort Sam Houston. Examination disclosed that he used morphine and prussic acid. A note signed "Mack" had been inevitable since last November was found on a nearby table. The physicians say he has little chance of recovery.

Trust Prosecutions
New York, June 7.—A notable conference on the subject of trust prosecutions was held at the White House tonight. Those who participated were President Roosevelt, Secretary Cortelyou, Secretary Garfield, Attorney-General Bonaparte, Interstate Commerce Commissioners Knapp, and Lane, and Frank B. Kellogg, of Minnesota, special counsel for the government. The conference began shortly after nine o'clock and the two participants, after that time expected the conference would last until eleven o'clock or midnight.

By the appointment of Lord Charles Bessborough as Commander-in-Chief of the "Channel" fleet, the career of Sir A. K. Wilson came to an end, after 52 years' service, he having joined the navy at the age of 13.

VICTORIA IS ENJOYING UNUSUAL PROSPERITY

All Lines of Business Are Affected—Real Estate is Active

The announcement by both wholesale and retail merchants that their business has increased to a remarkable extent during the past few months the projected augmentation of the terminal facilities of the E. & N. railway by the C. P. R., the possibility of a scheme being adopted whereby freight may be imported and exported by the car load direct to and from the warehouses of the different manufacturers and wholesale concerns, the large volume of travel to and from Victoria and adjacent ports, the growing influx of home-seekers from the northwest, and the marked activity of the real estate market are some of the indications of general prosperity prevailing here at present. In commercial lines business was never better and so exceptional has been the growth of trade that it is found absolutely impossible to handle the freight with the facilities available at the local depot of the E. & N. railway.

With regard to the ever-increasing volume of travel from all points, and especially the number of retired farmers coming from the prairie provinces to settle in this section of the west, it is pointed out by the Canadian secretary of the Victoria Development and Tourist Association, and others, that this may be expected to continue throughout the summer.

On this assumption is based the statement that the value of property within the bounds of the municipality and throughout the districts in the immediate vicinity is bound to remain steady and, perhaps, to advance with the increasing demand which is expected during the summer and fall.

Those who have purchased the Uplands farm, situated on Cadboro Bay are preparing for the influx of home-seekers. They are subdividing that property, which embraces some four or five hundred acres. Afterwards it is proposed to install all modern improvements and residential conveniences and make it specially desirable as a site for suburban home-steads. The negotiations with the officials of the B. C. Electric railway company for the extension of the Wilfrid branch of the system to that locality are progressing favorably and it is altogether likely that the outcome will be the building of the desired line.

Local real estate agents state that the Oak Bay district is not the only section lying in the neighborhood of Victoria which is being rapidly settled. They say that there is a movement in the direction of the Gorge and Esquimalt. Where before there were but a few scattered houses, the vacant properties have been taken up and on them are being erected beautiful homes. Much the same is also the case within the city limits.

The brightness of the business outlook is indicated by the number of new stores being erected. The most recent of these is the extension of the premises of the gentlemen's furnishing store of W. & J. Wilson. Under the new arrangement it will have a frontage on Trounce Alley as well as on Government street. Although it will be only one storey high for the present it will be constructed so that additions may be added as more accommodation is needed. A large and roomy basement will be a feature of the new structure. Tenders are being called for now and immediately the contract is let the work will be rushed to completion.

PICTURE MACHINE TO

START MONDAY NIGHT

Regular Summer Season at the Gorge Park Will Open

The local representatives of the Edison Display company have completed preparations for the opening series of moving pictures at the Gorge park and it is expected that this feature will prove far more attractive than it did last season. The management has already placed their latest in position and everything is in readiness for the first performance, which takes place on Monday evening. The lights have been tested and are in good working order. The reflector which will be used this season is much stronger than that of last season and the pictures will be more distinct. The curtain will also be higher, making it much easier for the spectators to obtain a perfect view of every part of the picture. There was a weakness in this respect last year which the management has taken steps to overcome. An effort was made to have the screen placed in a different position, but after a careful inspection it was decided that the position occupied last year was as good as any that could be secured. Although the screen will not be shifted, the fact that the pictures will be seen in a higher position and the ground will make it much more comfortable for those who are standing in the rear.

In order that the most entertaining pictures may be shown one of the managers of the company will make a special trip to Seattle to select films, leaving by tonight's boat and returning Monday, bringing the films with him, thus making it certain that the films will be on hand. While in Seattle he will have several films thrown on the curtain and in this manner he will be able to select those which in his opinion will be the most pleasing to the Victoria public.

In addition to the pictures and excellent orchestral concert will be given every evening. This part of the programme will start at 8 o'clock and the pictures will be thrown on the curtain as soon as it is sufficiently dark to show them to the best advantage. The British Columbia Electric Railway company has arranged to provide a special car service and after 7.30 o'clock there will be a ten minute service from the corner of Government and Yates streets. In this manner the largest crowd, it is hoped, will be brought to the Gorge. The displays will be seen every evening with the exception of Sunday, and it is expected that they will add considerably to the popularity of Victoria's pretty summer resort.

Committee Meets

The streets, bridges and sewers committee was in session last night and dealt with a number of matters of routine business which were referred to them at last Monday's meeting of the city council. They report at the next meeting of the council.

Ask Increase in Pay

A delegation representing the Laborers' union of the city waited upon the mayor last evening and applied for an increase in wages. The mayor promised that the council would consider the application at its meeting on Monday evening next.

Looking for Son

Information regarding the present whereabouts of William Peterson, who was last heard of from the Queen's hotel, Victoria, is requested by his father, George Peterson, of Cromarty, Scotland. He says that he would be extremely grateful for any news or hint which would enable him to get in communication with his missing son.

Small Mackerel Catch

Halifax, June 7.—A wireless telegram from Prospect, near the mouth of Halifax harbor, says: "It begins to look now as if the American mackerel fleet would hit a very small catch this year. The cruiser Canada, which has been watching the Americans to prevent them trespassing within territorial waters, is also lying here."

It is said that Toronto will be made the secretariat headquarters of the Grand Orange Lodge of British America.

The medical degrees of Nova Scotia are to be recognized by the British Medical Council.

Constipation

Baked sweet apples, with some people, bring prompt relief for Constipation. With others, coarse all-wheat bread will have the same effect. Nature undoubtedly has a vegetable remedy to relieve constipation. It is the duty of a physician to find Nature's way to health. And this is strikingly true with regard to Constipation.

The bark of a certain tree in California—Cassia Sagrada—offers a most excellent aid to this end. But combined with Egyptian Sesum, Slippery Elm Bark, Solid Extract of Prunes, etc., this same Cassia bark is given its greatest possible power to correct constipation. A toothsome Dandy Tablet, called Lax-ets, is now made at the Dr. Shoop Laboratories, from this ingenious and most effective prescription. Its effect on Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Bowel Complication, etc., is indeed prompt and satisfying.

No griping, no unpleasant after effects are experienced, and Lax-ets are put up in beautiful lithographed metal boxes at 5 cents and 25 cents per box.

Side Lights on Sport

The Canadian lacrosse team, which will go to Australia, is anxious to play in Victoria. There is a chance for the Victoria West team. The tourists appear to be just about their meat. According to the Eastern papers the team is scarcely first-class intermediate, and certainly the records of the men do not show them any better. The local ought to take a whiff at the club, and ought to be simply snuffing to turn that Westminster bunch loose on the Easterners twice during their short stay on the coast, as is proposed in case no game is arranged here.

How Bill Blackburne, the local twirler, could be blacklisted from provincial baseball for not reporting to the Vancouver Northwestern League team when he had not signed a contract, puzzled a number of local ball fans. Bill was asked to name his terms by the Vancouver club, but he was so busy with his other work that he had no time, having arranged to turn out with the proposed local amateur club, he wrote admitting that he would accept a certain consideration monthly. The Vancouver club immediately wired back accepting the terms and ordering him to report. They also sent along a contract to be signed. This was returned without any signature, but the mere fact that Blackburne had named terms and these had been accepted by the club constituted a contract, according to baseball law. It was found that Manager Evans of the Vancouver club proposed to order Blackburne to report. The latter, however, has no intention of playing professional ball.

The athletic meet under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. at Oak Bay this afternoon promises to prove the most successful in the history of field sports in the province. There is an exceptionally large and representative entry list, comprising the pick of the athletes of Vancouver, Seattle and Victoria, the prizes are of an extremely valuable nature and the competition is most keen. All that is required to assure a great day of sport is good weather.

New Westminster has the right idea of producing a champion team. The senior lacrosse team trimmed Vancouver last Saturday, and the goalkeepers displayed such poor form that they have been scarcely recognized by the ladies on the streets of the town all week. Victory to them under such circumstances was no more welcome than defeat. Today the players have a cheer for the rest of the season when they will be the Maple Leafs on their home grounds, and just watch them recover the lost admiration of the fair sex.

Vancouver Island is the home of association football in the province of British Columbia and the game is being brought to a state of perfection here, that all three championships, senior, intermediate and junior, have come to the island this year. Yet the Vancouver clubs would have it believed that the island clubs do not know how to control the game and would force a new cup to be system of play. Even the Vancouver papers admit that the island clubs are in the right in their stand for no change in the constitution on these lines.

The statement that the Capital lacrosse club's English tour was not a financial success should not come as a surprise when it is considered that the admission fee charged was only 6 pence (12 cents). The game in England is played just for sport's sake, and previous to this it was seldom that a gate was charged. The Capital's share of the gate in the South of England, for instance, was about $600. The home club usually deducted 25 per cent of the gate for expenses.

What struck the Capitals as the funniest thing on the map in the first game of the English tour was the action of the referee, when a Capital player landed on an English opponent. The official immediately stopped the play and ordered all the Capital players to step to one side. The Ottawa boys were amazed for a minute, thinking that half the team was going to be ruled off. But they soon saw their mistake when Hutton was told to re-appear in the nets and the player struck prepared to shoot on goal. He shot and Hutton relieved, and then the players were told to take their places and the ball was centered again. This free shot is the penalty for a minor offense in the game in England.

Time heals it has taken Jimmy Britt less than two years to forget that fearful night which Ed Nelson handed him at Colma on September 9, 1905. Britt has signed to meet Nelson again on July 3 in San Francisco.

Two schools of fighting will be represented when Bill Squires and Tommy Burns come together for the heavyweight championship of the world at Colma next month. Burns is the rushing slugging type of fighter who is continually boring in to mix at close quarters, and delights in the indignant Squires is the English type of boxer, a straight puncher and jabber and clever on his feet, and according to Joe Thomas, the California welterweight, is there with the wallop as well. Much interest is being evinced in the bout locally and there will likely be considerable speculation on the result. From this distance it looks like an even proposition. There is no line of dope by which the records of the men can be compared. Burns' ability is known. He is the best of the American heavyweights outside of Jeffries and has fought his way to the top. Squires has beaten everybody in Australia, but how he shapes with American fighters is more or less of a mystery. He did not fancy Jack Johnson's game when the negro was in Australia, but then all the American heavyweights have exhibited the same reluctance to mix up with the smoke.

Those Vancouver baseball club directors who, while sad and sorry after the Seattle Swashes had tomahawked the Canucks beyond recognition, offered the sum of $2,000 to the players if they finished the season the proud winners of the Northwestern league pennant, $1,500 if they wound up next in line, and $1,200 if they squeezed into third place, should have gone on down the line and made it $3,000 for fourth, $800 for fifth and $600 to win a game. There is nothing like being a sport and when money is being thrown around recklessly like that the players should be given a chance at least.

We are strong patriots and believe in upholding the maple leaf, yet we cannot help but root for the New Westminster lacrosse team today.

The Broncho, 2:00 3-4, the world's pacing queen, owned by E. J. Rochon of Winnipeg, Man., who was retired from racing this spring because of lameness but failed to be paid for his stallion Willie Benton, 2:05 2-4, and will raise a foal before she is trained again, which means that it will be a couple of years at least before she is again seen at the races—provided she ever is. Her present trouble is not the sprain that threw her out of the training last fall, and from which she completely recovered, but a spavin, which she developed entirely unexpectedly a few weeks ago. Nothing could more forcibly illustrate the uncertainties that attend on race horses. The Broncho, to all appearances, had one of the most perfect hocks ever seen, in conformation it might have served as sculptor's model, and any one who had examined it would have declared her the last horse in the world likely to throw out a spavin. Yet she has done so, and with Bernard Shaw, there is nothing left to say except that you never can tell. It is sincerely to be hoped that The Broncho's ailment will yield to treatment, and that she may return to the turf in record breaking feats of yore.

Local cricket enthusiasts will be out in force this afternoon when the Victoria and Oak Bay clubs come together for the first time this year at the Jubilee Hospital grounds. The rivalry between the two organizations is keen and great interest is being evinced in today's game. Both clubs have out their strongest eleven and the match should result in a splendid exhibition of the grand old game.

Vancouver Team Strong.

Vancouver, June 7.—The local Y. M. C. A. will be represented by a speedy bunch of athletes at the Inter-Association track meet in Victoria on Saturday. The pick of athletic talent in the local branch will carry the colors in Victoria and it is expected that some of the handsome trophies offered will be brought back to Vancouver. In the 100-yards dash there are Hillier and Ferguson, both of whom can shade 11 seconds, and from whom a good showing is expected. Matthews will enter in the 20, and ought to be well to the front in this event. The mile and half mile events will be taken care of by Elkins, the association's great miler, and in these events particularly they expect to bring home the prizes. Hilliard has entered for the pole vault and the hurdles, and has shown good form at these events in practice. His hurdling is especially good. The high and broad jumps will have Ferguson and Hilliard as contestants and the opposing athletics will have to go some in both events.

Simpson, Johnston and Spanton will uphold the local association's end in the seven mile run, and if they are in condition, ought to land a winner among the three.

WONDERFUL RIDING

Colored Jockey at Louisville Rides Six Winners in One Day

Louisville, Ky., June 7.—The wonderful riding of J. Lee, the colored jockey, was the sensation at Churchill Downs Wednesday. He won all six races on the card, and some of his mounts were at long prices. One dollar paroled on Lee's mounts would have netted $13,000.

This record has been equaled but twice, by Fred Archer and George Fordham, both in England. Monk Overman, a negro, one day at Wagoning Park, Chicago, 16 years ago won the first six races but did not have a mount in the seventh.

A Johnston, of Brownsville, a well-known dry goods merchant is dead, aged 80.

POLICE FIELD DAY IN VANCOUVER IN AUGUST

Guardians of Peace From British Columbia and the Sound Cities to Compete

Vancouver, June 7.—A police field day in which policemen from Vancouver, Victoria, Nanaimo, New Westminster, Seattle and Tacoma will be entered has been arranged for the 14th of August at Recreation park. A special meeting of the executive committee in charge was held a few days ago and the decision to hold the field day reached. There will be one feature of the games this year which will perhaps detract from their charms, many old timers. Very few of the old brigade of the local force will be in evidence. Some have gone away, and others have retired in favor of the younger men. Paddy Davis, who used to win the sprint events, is running the police end of North Vancouver municipality's troubles, and will not participate. Sergeant McIntosh says he is out of it, and Jack McLean comes out with the announcement that he will be unable to compete owing to the ravages of old Father Time, and will retire in favor of Sergeant James McDonald, McDonald, McKee and Pat Hartney. This bunch of champions should uphold the honor of the local department, however.

There is a lot of new material from which strong teams can be selected in the police force. Gilles, one of the new men, will make any of them muscle in the weights, even the renowned Pat Hartney, once champion of the coast. Then there will be the tug-of-war team from Victoria to drag the best team all over the park. They are a husky bunch and are strongly of the opinion that the local boys will be as children in their hands. The boys in blue intend practicing some of their favorite pulls on the firemen when they meet that team on Saturday, and will make that a sort of preliminary to the big event with Victoria.

TWELVE ATHLETES TO COME FROM SEATTLE

Several Noted Performers From Across the Gulf Will Compete at Oak Bay Today

The entries of the Seattle Athletic club for the big field meet of the Y. M. C. A. at Oak Bay this afternoon arrived yesterday and will be followed this morning by the athletes themselves. There were twelve entries in yesterday's entry, and the club will be represented in every event on the programme. Among the athletes from across the Sound is Paxton, the well known long distance runner, who will represent the club in the seven mile Marathon race.

Everything is in readiness for the meet this afternoon. The track was given considerable attention yesterday and is in first class condition. Two new events have been added to the programme. One is a discus throw, a new one on local athletes. It has been put on at the request of the Seattle contingent, and they will bring their own discus with them. The other is a hundred yard dash confined to members of the local Y. M. C. A. It is creating much rivalry.

The following are entries received from the Seattle Athletic club: Dash, entered for the 100 yards, 220 yards, 440 yards, broad jump and the relay race. Bretland, entered for the 100 yards, 220 yards, 440 yards and the relay race. Smith, entered for the 100 yards, 220 yards, 440 yards, broad jump, and the relay race. Vernon, 880 yards and the mile. SUNSHINE FURNACE is not appreciated by many furnace manufacturers or the general public as much as it should be.

Without the moisture evaporated from the water in the pan, the hot air distributed throughout the house is dry and dusty. Cracks and opens up the furniture—is not fit to breathe into the lungs.

Yet, mind you, some furnace makers place this important water-pan where there is often not enough heat to evaporate the water. Put it out of sight in an awkward position at the side or back, where it cannot readily be filled without being removed—and when filled it would take a juggler to replace it without spilling a big share over himself.

Note the convenient location of the large water-pan of the Sunshine—just above the fuel door. Takes but a moment or two to fill it.

THE AWKWARD COMMON WAY

It is placed right in the path of the hot air as it circulates around the dome of the furnace. It is impossible for any heated air to pass out of the registers before extracting its due share of moisture from the water-pan. That means you breathe healthful, clarified air, free from dust and dryness.

For the sake of your furniture, your own health and peace of mind, you should decide on the Sunshine.

The return trip will be started on September 2, when the tourists will sail from Freemantle on the Orient

It is altogether probable that the team will leave the steamer at either of the latter places and proceed overland across France, crossing to Dover and then on to London. Three weeks will be spent "doing" the "Old" Country, and the boys will leave for home October 23, reaching Toronto November 4, having been absent five months and covering upwards of 30,000 miles of travel.

MANHATTAN HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Doubt As To Position of Fishing Vessel Saved the Steamer

SONOMA FROM GOLDEN GATE

Big Oceanic Steamer Reached Port
Yesterday Morning—Teas
for West Coast

On that last trip north of the fishery protection cruiser Kestrel, the fishing steamer Manhattan, an American bottom, operated from Vancouver by the New England Fish company, the latter vessel narrowly escaped capture by the government ship. The Manhattan was seen in close proximity to the three-mile limit, and officers of the Kestrel were of opinion that she was inside the prescribed zone, but as there was doubt no action was taken. The Manhattan soon afterward steamed further to sea. It is generally considered that the Kestrel cannot protect the northern fishing banks, even when the vessel is cruising to the north. Officers of the steamer say at least two vessels are necessary. With two fishery cruisers one would be able to remain always on the fishing grounds to see that the laws were not broken. As it is the Kestrel makes a periodical cruise north, and the fishermen know the times of her comings and goings, with the result that the alien craft are always within the law when the cruiser is at the fishing grounds. The vessel is forced to return periodically for coal and provisions, and there is a free fishing ground while she is away.

EVERETT G. GRIGGS

Victoria Vessel Sails Today on Another Voyage With a Large Lumber Cargo

The six-masted barkentine Everett G. Griggs, of Victoria, Capt. Delano, after shipping a crew at Esquimalt, will sail today for the antipodes with over a quarter million feet of lumber, from Chemainus. The Everett G. Griggs, although she has sailed for but two years as a barkentine, has made Victoria famous in the ports of the seven seas as the home of the only six masted barkentine in the sailing fleets of the world's shipping. The vessel was formerly the German ship Columbia, which was dismantled off the Vancouver Island coast some years ago and towed to Esquimalt, almost a wreck, by the Norwegian steamer Norman Isles, which vessel was paid several thousand dollars salvage. The Griggs was in danger of going ashore on the Vancouver Island coast, when rescued, in fact her master had thrown several bottles overboard with messages, believing that no one would survive if the vessel went ashore. After lying at Esquimalt for some time the vessel was sold to a local syndicate and renamed the Lord Wolsley, being registered as a British vessel at this port. It was afterward decided to re-rig the vessel and she was converted into a six-masted barkentine. The Griggs is a fast sailer and can be economically handled. Where square-rigged ships with much less carrying capacity than she has to carry crews totalling from 25 to 35 men, the Everett G. Griggs has but nineteen all told.

THE OVERSEAS MAIL

Empress of Ireland at Quebec—Empress of India Sails Monday

The steamer Empress of Ireland, of the C. P. R. steamship service on the Atlantic, reached Quebec yesterday morning with 1516 passengers, many of whom were bound to the far east, the overseas mails and passengers were transferred to the Overland Mail special and will reach Vancouver on Monday to sail onward across the Pacific by the R. M. S. Empress of India, which will leave here on Monday evening.

The Empress of India, will carry a large amount of flour in her cargo consigned to Japanese and Chinese ports. She is due at Yokohama June 23, and at Hongkong seven days later. The steamer Empress of India, the next Oriental liner expected to reach port. The big blue funnel liner is due on Monday. It is expected this vessel will carry one of the largest shipments of whale oil ever sent to Glasgow. Over 2500 barrels are now ready for shipment by the big freighter.

FOR CAPE NOME

Duneris Sails With Full Cargo of Sack Coal For Arctic

The steamer Duneris, Capt. Gay, sailed yesterday from Royal Roads for Cape Nome with a full cargo of sack coal from Ladysmith. After being delayed here awaiting the making of two large booms at the Victoria machinery depot. The boom was towed out yesterday and shipped, and the steamer ran to sea. Several schooners were shipped while the vessel was in Royal Roads. This is the second trip made to Alaskan ports this season with coal by the Duneris, the last one being to Unalakleet.

At Unalakleet, officers of the Duneris met several sea-otter hunters, and learned from them that quite a profitable business is being done by the hunters off the Aleutian coastline.

The United States government while prohibiting its citizens from engaging in pelagic sealing does not interfere with the practice of otter-hunting, and several small schooners are yearly engaged in this business. One of the otter-hunters, who has a small schooner of about thirty tons, carrying five Aleuts as a crew secured nineteen sea-otter skins last season. As these skins are valued from $300 to $1000 each, the season was a profitable one.

BROUGHT SPRING SALMON

Trap Tender Baldy Arrived Yesterday from Traps in Straits

Bringing four tons of spring salmon from the Otter Point trap of Findlay, Durham & Brodie, for Linderberger & company's packing house, on Turner Becton's wharf, the gasoline steamer Baldy, Capt. Tucker, arrived in the inner harbor yesterday. The work was started at once mending the fish and preparing it for shipment to Germany. It is expected other traps will lift today and further consignments of fish are expected. Two mid-curing establishments are now in operation preparing spring salmon for shipment to Germany.

SONOMA IN PORT

Big Two Funnel Oceanic Steamer Reached Port Yesterday Morning

The steamer Sonoma, the big two-funnelled oceanic liner which formerly ran between San Francisco and Australia and New Zealand, reached port yesterday morning, 58 hours from San Francisco. Capt. Cousins is in command and B. B. Bendall, who was purser of the steamer Moana and later agent of the Canadian-Australian line at Vancouver, is purser. The Sonoma was twelve hours late, having been delayed in leaving owing to a strike in her firemen crew.

As a coincidence the steamer Sonoma brought cargo for transshipment to the steamer Aurang, formerly in the opposition line, for shipment to Australia. This freight was necessarily brought north because of the withdrawal of the steamer Sonoma and her sister steamers Sierra and Ventura, from the service from San Francisco to the Antipodes.

The passengers landed here were: R. A. Burnet, Mrs. Knight, Miss Taylor, J. Helyer, J. F. Revolt, C. E. Prazer, Mrs. E. Jackman, Miss Arnett, Mrs. Small and two children, R. Menzies, A. McKenzie and wife, Geo. Slater and wife, J. Work, D. McCallum, H. A. McCall and wife, Alex. Lew, D. C. Halton, E. D. Jones, H. A. Foster, W. P. Gutheridge and wife, T. R. Styles, C. Kenny, E. A. Pinkney, L. McKenzie, A. D. Steel and fourteen in the stowage.

The Sonoma will sail for San Francisco again on Tuesday.

SCOW WANTED

Marine Department Inviting Tenders for Apparatus for Buoy Work

Tenders are being called for the construction of a wooden scow, a steel derrick and other appliances for use in buoy work. It is intended to erect a steel derrick with hoisting engine and other accessories on the scow, which will be used in the harbor, and which is to have four hoisting drums and two winch heads, and an upright steel tubular boiler of thirty horsepower capacity. Tenders will be received up to June 20. Specifications can be secured at the local agency of the marine department.

WAS ON STRATHNEVIS

Capt. Robertson, of St. Helena, Was on Board Drifting Steamer

Capt. Robertson, of the steamer St. Helena, which passed out yesterday for Melbourne, after loading lumber at Nanaimo, was chief officer of the steamer Strathnevis when that vessel was drifting for three months derelict in the North Pacific after losing her tail shaft some years ago. Capt. Patte, now in command of the steamer Strathnevis, was on board the Strathnevis. The vessel was missing for some months and several others went in search of her intent upon the earning of a large amount of salvage. The steamer Salvor, then the Danube, of the Canadian Pacific Navigation company, was out with Capt. John Irving in charge, and cruised for some weeks without success. The Strathnevis was finally picked up by the steamer Miowara, of the Canadian-Australian line, when en route to Victoria from Honolulu, but was afterwards lost again during a heavy gale, and eventually picked up by the collier Minella, which towed her to Port Townsend, arriving there on Christmas day.

CODFISHING FLEET

Increase in Number of Vessels—Large Catch Is Expected

That the codfishing catch on the Pacific side will be very large this year is the prediction of all the men engaged in the business, says the Post-Intelligencer. They also state that it will be even larger than the catch on the Atlantic side. The Labrador fishing season has opened later this year than formerly. The Gloucester fishing fleet, according to the reports received by the companies operating this coast, is smaller than formerly. This is because about the local men say, by the disappearance of the cod from the eastern banks.

The fleet of codfishing boats sailing from the Sound this year to the Alaskan banks has increased materially. This year the fleet is larger than ever before. Companies that in former years sent up only one schooner or are now sending north two or three. King & Winge, of this city, say that the fleet this year will catch far more than last season, as the number of boats engaged in the trade has increased and is increased in order to supply the demand.

The boats also left earlier this year than before. An effort will be made to have them make two trips to the Bering sea banks this year. If possible.

The Ontario government has approved of Ottawa's proposal to give the Bell telephone a five-year franchise.

CARRYING ORE

The Barge Haydn Brown Carrying Iron From Texada Mine to Irondale

The barge Haydn Brown has commenced service in the ore-carrying trade between British Columbia mines and Irondale blast furnaces, owned and operated by James A. Moore and associates, having arrived at Port Townsend on Wednesday from Texada with her first cargo. It is intended to use the Haydn Brown also to carry ore from Iron properties to be developed at Quatsino sound.

FREIGHT FOR KOTZEBUE

Leelanaw and Barge Two Brothers taking Big Cargo North

The steamer Leelanaw and barge Two Brothers, both owned in Victoria, are taking a large cargo of mining supplies and general merchandise from Seattle for Kotzebue sound. The Leelanaw, capt. by Ladysmith, and proceeded from the mining port to Seattle. Mr. Greenburg, who is loading the Leelanaw, is the owner of the famous Hessian claim, in Nome. Two years ago he was a struggling merchant in Kotzebue and had about $100 worth of supplies sent up on a small schooner. Next year he discovered the value of his claim and has since taken more than $100,000 from it. This year he is taking up a full cargo on one of the largest steamships in the trade, and also shipping a load of lumber on the barge Two Brothers.

The amount of stuff going to Kotzebue this year is more than double that which went there last season.

LOAD FLOUR AND WHEAT

British Steamer, Gymeric Chartered to Load at Portland for China

The British steamer Gymeric has been chartered by Frank Waterhouse & Co., to carry a cargo of wheat and flour from Portland to North China and Siberia. The steamer is now on her way from Manzanillo to Victoria, having taken a cargo of railroad ties to the Mexican port. She will be ordered to Portland immediately upon her arrival here.

TO COAL MONMOUTH

Preparations Commenced Yesterday for Bunkering the British Cruiser

The work of loading coal on scows at Esquimalt in readiness for the coaling of H. M. S. Monmouth, the first-class cruiser expected to reach Esquimalt on June 18, to carry Prince Rupert and party, was commenced yesterday by the Victoria Stevedoring & Contracting company, acting for the admiralty. There are about 400 tons of Welsh coal available at Esquimalt as well as 1600 tons of patent fuel (brickets).

It is probable that the greater part if not all the Welsh coal will be taken by the Monmouth and the balance needed will be brought from Comox. H. M. S. Shearwater is due at Esquimalt on Monday from South America and will be at Esquimalt when the cruiser, which is now on the way from Yokohama, arrives there.

WIRELESS FOR STEAMERS

Value of Apparatus Shown by Use on Steamer President

Captain Yardley is here from Ottawa to select sites for wireless stations on the British Columbia coast for use in connection with apparatus to be installed on the C. P. R. steamers. The use of wireless on steamers has been shown by its usage on the steamer President of the Pacific Coast Steamship company, now on the way from Seattle to Cape Nome. When the steamer was 300 miles out, off the northwest of Vancouver island, Jafet Linderberger, one of her passengers, sent a commercial message by wireless to W. J. Kelly, of Seattle, in answer to a message sent by Kelly to Linderberger on board the vessel.

COAL SHORTAGE CONTINUES

Steamers Find Difficulty in Securing Fuel at the Island Mines

The great increase in the number of steamers plying these waters and the shortage of labor, as well as other handicaps, notably the fire now prevailing at No. 4 slope of the Union mines, have caused a serious situation as far as shipping is concerned. Stevedores are obliged to wait for a considerable time for coal in some instances, and in cases it is difficult to secure even a necessary supply of coal. Yesterday a Vancouver tug which came to Ladysmith for 150 tons of coal was obliged to leave with less than half the needed amount. Conditions at Puget Sound and other ports are equally bad, and shipowners are importing coal from Australia and Japan to meet the demand.

The steamer Mackinaw, loaded with freight and passengers for Alaska, secured bunker coal at Ladysmith yesterday. The Norwegian steamer Tordenskjold, sailed for San Francisco with a full cargo from Ladysmith.

Tug Daisy, arrived with scows from Nanaimo, and the steamers Kingsfisher and Chasman loaded bunker coal at Nanaimo on their way north.

The fire in No. 4 slope, Cumberland, has had the effect of retarding to some extent maritime movements from Comox. A few tugs have arrived and received fuel, but the fire has greatly retarded the output. The management have the fire under control, but it is believed will be restored in a few days. There has been no foreign shipping at Comox for the past two days. The vessels now in port are the big British freighter Wangard, lumber laden for the Orient, the barge Baroda, and the tugs Pilot and Belle.

DRIVING WORK AWAY

Manager of Moran Yards Says Labor Troubles are Doing Damage

That the labor troubles on the Pacific coast are driving contracts for vessels to the Eastern shipyards, is the statement of J. V. Patterson, general manager of the Moran company. Mr. Patterson says that the result will be to practically kill shipbuilding on this coast.

"Already the damage done to the shipbuilding concerns on the Pacific coast is almost irreparable," said he to the Seattle Post-Intelligencer. "There have been contracts of importance that should have been placed with some Pacific coast shipbuilding company, and would have been placed on this coast, but for the labor troubles that have tied up the various yards; have reduced the output of the yards, and delayed work on the different ships under construction."

"There is not a shipbuilding company on the Pacific coast that has not suffered. As a result there is no company on the coast that would dare undertake a very large contract. Nor is there a company that would place a very large contract out here."

THE NEW PRINCESS.

Captain Troup to Confer With Officials Regarding New Steamer.

Capt. J. W. Troup, superintendent of the C. P. R. Steamship Company, who is in Ottawa attending a meeting of the Dominion lighthouse board, will take advantage of his visit east to confer with the C. P. R. officials at Montreal with regard to the plans for the new princess steamer which is to be used to alternate with the steamer Princess Victoria. It is proposed to construct an improved princess with turbine engines, about 25 feet longer than the C. P. R. flyer and with 6 feet more beam. There will be another tier of staterooms and many other improvements. In addition to the dining room a cafe is proposed where travelers may secure meals a la carte; in fact, the new princess will be the last word in modern passenger vessels. It is expected the contract for the steamer will be let in England in the near future.

ROBBERY ON MINNESOTA

Passenger of Big Northern Liner Lost Large Sum

The steamer Minnesota of the Great Northern line reached Seattle yesterday morning. The captain of her passengers, Mrs. William Bradley Walker, lost $4000 (Mexican) by robbery on board the liner at Kobe. A Seattle detective met the steamer at Port Townsend to investigate the theft. No clue was obtained by the ship's officers, who had been at work in the case since the theft was reported at Kobe over two weeks ago.

FOR WEST COAST.

Steamer Teas Left Last Night With Heavy Cargo for Quatsino.

The steamer Teas, Captain Townsend, sailed last night for Quatsino and way ports of the west coast of Vancouver island with every stateroom filled and a full cargo of general freight, including a large tank about twenty feet long, for the Quatsino. The Teas also carried a large shipment of barrels for Sechart. Among the passengers were Herbert Carmichael, provincial assayer, and wife, bound for Alberta on an exploratory tour to Alberta, and family, E. Ward, E. Quay, H. A. Carney, F. H. Carvey, A. Dakins, J. J. Jackson, H. Burns, Tim Dodan, A. W. Neill, F. Verdin, A. Ellis, J. Donovan, E. M. Davis, E. Nicholls, H. Sherbourne, F. Patterson, F. Anderson, Cross and party of three.

PRINCESS MAY RETURN.

C. P. R. Skagway Liner Reached Port Yesterday From Skagway.

The steamer Princess May, Captain McLeod, reached port yesterday from Lynn canal ports, bringing about fifty passengers, forty of them from Yukon points. The majority debarked at Vancouver, from where the steamer proceeded to Ladysmith for coal en route to Victoria.

Officers of the Princess May say the story telegraphed from Washington to the effect that Captain McLeod prevented the arrest of a deserter from Fort Lisburn at Ketchikan is untrue. Officials at Ketchikan were unwilling to take any action regarding the alleged deserter who was on board the steamer.

AN ARCTIC CRUISE

James Drummond Takes Former Whaler to the Northern Ocean

The ship James Drummond, which recently loaded 2000 tons of sack coal at Ladysmith and then went to Port Townsend to load provisions for the whaling fleet in the Arctic, took Capt. William Mogg, a whaler who has had 25 years experience in northern waters, together with a crew of 15 men, and equipment for an Arctic cruise in a gasoline schooner waiting at Port Comox. The ultimate destination is Point Cape Prince Alfred, a location

HEART TROUBLE CURED

In the rush, hurry and worry of modern times, we overlook the heart. Is it any wonder then that there comes a breakdown of this wonderful little engine, when such a continued strain is placed upon it day after day. There are many forms of heart trouble and the slightest derangement of this important organ is extremely dangerous. To strengthen the weak heart it is necessary to use a remedy that will act upon the heart, restore and revitalize it and at the same time tone up and invigorate the nervous system, we have such a combination in

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

Mrs. Ella Dingman, Morganston, Ont., writes of her experience with them: "It is with the greatest of pleasure that I recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I was troubled for a long time with my heart; I had weak and dizzy spells, could not rest at night, and I would have to sit up in bed the greater part of some nights, and it was absolutely impossible for me to lie on my left side. At last I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and they did me so much good I got another box and they effected a complete cure. I have not been troubled with my heart since."

Price 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of money by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

800 miles northeast of the mouth of the Mackenzie river and to the northernmost extremity of Banksland island latitude 73 degrees north.

Backed by San Francisco capitalists and under general instructions from the Geographical Society of London, Capt. Mogg will employ that part of the crew which navigation is closed in prospecting and exploring about Banksland. This region, so far as is known, has been visited by only two parties of white men. Through travelers there has come accounts of the existence of fabulously rich copper and gold deposits. It is further stated that the natives have immense stores of valuable furs. In quest of these riches is the commercial end of the expedition. During the three months of Arctic summer whaling will be pursued. The arrangements for the cruise and exploration include the carrying of extensive stores and goods for barter.

Upon arrival in the ship Drummond at Port Clarence, in North Sound, a fifty ton whaling gasoline schooner will be taken. In this craft the party of seventeen will sail directly for the Arctic to the north of the mouth of the Mackenzie.

It is planned to spend August and September in these waters, proceeding thence to a winter camp on Ramsey island. This section is also but slightly explored. During the three winters following 1852 Capt. McClure, a famous explorer of Arctic waters, camped on the island, and four years ago Capt. Hoffman in the schooner Penelope, remained a winter on the island with his crew. Capt. Hoffman is yet in charge of extensive whaling operations east of Cape Barrow.

Capt. Mogg is a pioneer with a whaling and exploring history of Northern waters. His first voyage to the east of Bathurst was made in 1881.

SHIP WITHOUT COUNTRY

Alta on Way From Callao to Royal Roads—Lost an Anchor Here

The four-masted bark Alta, now on her way to Royal Roads from Callao, Peru, is a ship without a country. The Alta was originally under the Chilean flag. Later she was purchased by Americans at Manila and placed under Philippine registry for the coconut trade. She will not be able to get an American register until the Philippine Islands are declared a territory. The result has been to place the owners of the Alta in some difficulty, especially when a crew is to be shipped, as no government official of any country is willing to sign the sailors.

The Alta sailed from Callao April 24. She should arrive within the next week or two. The Alta has been here and is well known. She lost an anchor in Royal Roads during a former visit.

MARINE NOTES

The price asked for the American ship Ivy, now at Esquimalt, is stated to be $11,500. Several deals have been under negotiation for the purchase of the vessel since her arrival from the Orient, but all have fallen through.

H. M. S. Empress of Japan left Hongkong at 4 p. m. yesterday for Yokohama via Shanghai, Nagasaki, Kobe and Yokohama.

The steamer St. Helena, loaded with lumber from Portland and Tacoma for Melbourn, passed out to sea yesterday after loading bunker coal at Nanaimo.

British ship Loch Garve, Capt. Wiley will proceed to Tacoma today to load for Melbourne. The Loch Garve was ashore at Komala reef, Molokai, before coming from the Hawaiian Islands to Royal Roads, and Capt. Wiley was anxious to dock the vessel here for survey and overhaul. The local ship yards were unwilling to bid for the work, however, owing to the superabundance of orders on hand and the shortage of labor, and the vessel will be hauled out at Tacoma.

The steamer Wellington proceeded to Comox yesterday. It is probable that the steamer will be laid up there for a time.

Suicide's Body Found

Vancouver, June 7.—The body of an unknown man, who had evidently committed suicide, was found in the bush near the Hastings shingles mill this afternoon. A Winchester rifle with one exploded cartridge was found by his side, and in his hands was a forked stick with which he had pulled the trigger. He was evidently a prospector, but the body was badly decayed and there was no clue to his identity.

PROCLAMATION IS NOW IN EFFECT

British Columbia Now in Control of Fisheries of Province

NO NET FISHING AT COWICHAN

Local Authorities Will not Permit Exercise of Licenses Granted by Dominion

The Provincial government has taken the first steps towards assuming control of the fisheries of British Columbia. In this week's Gazette appears a proclamation declaring the Fisheries Act of 1901 in force after June 6. Therefore, the enactment is now in operation.

In discussing the situation yesterday, Hon. F. J. Fulton, chief commissioner of lands and works, explained that before the province could take over the administration of the fisheries in the fullest sense it would be necessary to draft regulations, amplifying the terms of the aforementioned act. That would not be done immediately but would be brought about gradually so that the industry would not be interrupted with or injured by the transference of jurisdiction.

What was aimed at particularly, the chief commissioner said, was the prevention of fishing in Cowichan bay. That was something which would be attempted by the provincial government under the British Columbia Fisheries act.

"To those who know thee not
No words can paint!
And those who know thee
Know all words are faint."

Establishment of fisheries in Cowichan bay. If the Dominion declines to issue the licenses which have been issued this will bring the provincial and the federal powers into conflict over the fishery question. The outcome, especially in view of the announcement that the provincial administration has decided to maintain the position assumed, will be awaited with interest.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reliable physicians, as the damage they will do is too great to be good. You can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonial: Sold by druggists. Price 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Pennsylvania Republicans

Shearman, of Philadelphia, for state treasurer and the adoption of a platform endorsing the policies and administration of President Roosevelt, were the net results of today's Republican state convention.
